Lunar Surface Exploration

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Spacecraft Ranger 8 was launched today toward the moon today to snap 4,000 photos of the dusty, crater-pocked lunar surface and continue the exploration started by Ranger 7.

An Atlas-Agena rocket thundered into the sky at 12:05 p.m. to start the bug-like craft on a planned quarter-million-mile journey intended to probe mysteries which must be solved before American astronauts tread the lunar surface in 1969.

The powerful rocket, 104 feet tall and weighing 138 tons, poured a fountain of flame from its three booster engines as it vaulted from its launching pad.

The flight plan called for the camera-toting 809-pound spacecraft to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon about 5 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Saturday after a 234,300-mile space trip. The special photographic target is a wide plain called the Sea of Tranquility.

Greater Plot in Plan to Blast Monuments

New York Paper
Says Aim Vital
U. S. Installations

NEW YORK (AP) — The plot to blow up the Statue of Liberty, Washington Monument and Liberty Bell was reported unofficially today to be only part of a vastly greater scheme aimed at destruction of vital installations around the nation.

This report was published by the New York World-Telegram Sun, which attributed it to investigators involved in the situation but whose identity was not disclosed.

"While the full scope of the investigation will not be revealed until it is completed, this much can be told," the newspaper said.

"The four suspects under arrest here — three men and an attractive French-Canadian blonde — have contact with extremist groups in several American and Canadian cities.

"The suspects had discussed plans to form several three-man demolition teams to destroy unspecified U. S. installations.

"Several other suspected plotters are under surveillance by the FBI and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"The New York Police Department has been in touch with police officials in at least two other U. S. cities — Cleveland and Detroit.

"Interested in Connections
"Investigators are particularly interested in the plotters' connections with pro-Castro leftists, officials of Communist China and United Nations diplomats."

Authorities have described the three men under arrest as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics.

The New York Journal-American asserted that "terrorists practicing the violent tactics of Communist China's boss, Mao Tse-Tung, have penetrated to the sidewalks of New York with signals being called from Red Cuba."

The newspaper noted the fact that the alleged ringleader of the quartet under arrest met with Cuba's No. 2 man, Ernesto Guevara, on two occasions recently, and that Guevara currently is visiting in Peking.

"The fear in Washington is that violent direct-action groups, following Mao and Guevara's lead, might spill terror into the streets not only here and Philadelphia, but also in Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore and other cities with large Negro populations," said the Journal-American.

Only Pound of Explosive Used

Door to Vatican is Dynamited

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A pound of dynamite exploded early today against a wooden door in the Vatican wall only 100 yards from the apartment where Pope Paul VI was sleeping.

Police sought to determine whether the explosion was linked with Communist protests against the banning of the controversial play "The Deputy."

Awakened Pope

Vatican sources said the blast undoubtedly awakened the Pope. It destroyed part of the door in the wall, caused damage in the Swiss Guard barracks just inside the wall and shattered windows within a hundred-yard radius.

A night watchman, Vittorio Rivi, told police he saw two men approach the gate, then hurry away in a high-powered car just before the explosion. He said the men were short, youthful in appearance and well dressed. He said one was bearded.

Crude Device

Police said the bomb was a crude device consisting of a pound of dynamite packed into a carton. It was wedged against a corner of the seldom-opened Porta Angelica — Angelic Door.

The door is alongside the gate of St. Anna, the only entry into the walled Vatican City from the Via de Porta Angelica, which runs from the southeastern corner of Vatican City to the great colonnades around St. Peter's Square.

It was the first bombing at the 108-acre Vatican City-state since 1962, when two fire bombs were found in St. Peter's Basilica three weeks before the first session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council. Two months before a time bomb had exploded in the basilica but caused only slight damage.

Foiled Plot to Dynamite Monuments

Undercover Agent Pierced Conspiracy

BY RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Wood, 31-year-old Negro, who 10 months ago was just a rookie cop, plunged coolly into a cloak-and-dagger role to unmask a quartet allegedly bent on blowing up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell.

Three American Negroes, described as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics, and a striking Canadian blonde, were seized Tuesday in a lightning roundup by police and the FBI.

Wood was hustled to a police station along with one of the alleged plotters as he was helping transfer 20 sticks of dynamite from a lot to an auto in a quiet residential section of the Bronx. Alerted by Wood, police had blanketed the area.

Risked Life

The 6-foot-1 inch, 201-pound Wood, who is single, for three months had infiltrated a Negro extremist organization known as the Black Liberation Front at a daily risk of his life.

Wood said of his achievement only: "I wanted to do my best."

He murmured "thank you" when Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, at a news conference, handed Wood an immediate promotion — the gold shield of a detective.

"You certainly deserve it," said Murphy.

An outstanding high school football player at Chester, S.C., Wood served four years in the U. S. Air Force in Germany with an investigative unit. He attended Fordham University for six months. Before that he had been a cost accountant.

Dangerous Mission

A patrolman for seven months, Wood undertook his dangerous mission when he became undercover agent for the police Bureau of Special Services.

He made his initial contact in a bar last December. From then on, it was a cat-and-mouse game as he attended meetings, walked picket lines until he was recognized as one of "them," and listened stolidly as he was told about the dynamite plots.

Those arrested were Robert S. Collier, 28, Boston-born, married with one child; Walter A. Bowe, 32, Philadelphia-born, married with one child; Khaleel S. Sayyed, 22, Brooklyn-born and single; and Michelle Duclos, 28, of Montreal, television commentator and member of a political party that advocates separation of French-speaking Quebec citizens from the rest of Canada.

The white marble facade of the building was streaked by red ink from a thrown bottle but no other damage was reported.

The Warsaw militia sent 100 reinforcements who formed a human wall and pushed the demonstrators in a series of scuffles to the opposite side of the street.

Initiated By Plea of Pope John

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) "Love, not fear, must dominate relationships between individuals and between nations."

This was the rudimentary plea of a plain-speaking Pope, the late John XXIII, in his now famed encyclical, Pacem in Terris — Peace on Earth.

Today, two years after its was issued, leaders and thinkers from around the world were gathering here to consider ways for applying its principles in a troubled, dangerous age.

The International Convocation on Pacem in Terris opens tonight in the United Nations General Assembly hall.

3-Day Meeting

It continues for the next three days, with statesmen, theologians and educators from the Western nations and the Communist East analyzing means of maintaining peace.

President Johnson has expressed hope the discussions "will provide a major contribution to the greatest single problem of our time."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, delivers the opening keynote address.

The convocation, privately sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, takes its impulse from the document penned by Pope John less than two months before he died.

Addressed to Mankind

Unlike past papal teaching letters, it was addressed not only to Roman Catholics, but to all mankind.

It was hailed by leaders of all faiths, Christian, Jewish, Moslem and Hindu, and by government heads around the globe, including then Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President John F. Kennedy.

It summarizes the moral ideals underlying human society, declares the right of religious liberty, or racial equality, of labor justice, and of rights both of private property and community ownership.

It refused to align itself with

Ballistic Missiles

Considered Reliable

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — An Air Force general says ballistic missiles are so reliable that aerospace industries have been asked how to fire flights of them, with dummy warheads, over heavily populated areas of the United States.

The day will come "when we will be flying missiles over the country as we do jet planes today," Gen. Bernard A. Schriever told a San Bernardino Sun-Telegram reporter.

Many Destructive Plots Carried Out

U.S. History Full of Fantastic Schemes

BY AUSTIN SCOTT

NEW YORK (AP) — History is full of incidents where small groups of determined men have tried to carry out fantastic schemes of destruction.

The Statue of Liberty, one alleged target in the dynamite plot exposed Tuesday by New York police, was endangered by such a plan once before in her 80-year history.

Lady Liberty suffered minor damage on July 30, 1916, when a munitions dump explosion

believed set by German saboteurs sent artillery shells shrieking into the air around her.

The blast started a $40-million fire raging on New Jersey's Black Tom docks, which jut into New York harbor almost directly behind the statue. Two persons were killed.

Other historic explosions include the blowing up of the U. S. battleship Maine on Feb. 15, 1896, in Havana harbor, an event which helped spark the Spanish-American War.

That explosion killed 264 men and two officers. A U. S. inquiry decided the blast came from outside the ship, while a Spanish board of inquiry held that it came from inside.

Twenty-one persons died in the Los Angeles Times building in 1910 when a dynamite explosion on Oct. 1 started a fire.

Contractors working on the building were engaged in a labor dispute at the time.

They hired an investigator to find the plotters. In a sensational trial during which defense attorney Clarence Darrow was twice charged with trying to improperly sway the jury, two men pleaded guilty and were sentenced to San Quentin Prison.

Six years later, 10 persons watching a Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco died

when a bomb went off on July 22, 1916.

Thomas J. Mooney, a labor organizer, and Warren K. Billings, a show worker, were sentenced to death and to life in prison, respectively. Mooney's sentence was later reduced to life, and he was eventually pardoned.

One of the most famous plots was the attempt of abolitionist John Brown to arm the slaves.

Brown took a force of only 21 men to raid the federal arsenal at Harper's Ferry, Va., on Oct. 16, 1859.

They took about 60 of the leading citizens as hostages. Brown was routed two days later by U. S. Marines under the command of Col. Robert E. Lee. Five civilians and a Marine were killed, along with a number of Brown's party.

Brown and five of his cohorts were taken prisoner, and later were hanged for treason. Northern abolitionists viewed him as a martyr.

Budgets Are Back in Style

Wednesday, Feb 17, 1965 The Post-Crescent B1

Plump raisins lend a delightful fruit flavor to this sweet and sour sauce made quickly and easily with old-fashioned ginger snaps. Spoon it over sliced tongue for a special treat and round out a low-cost dinner with baked tomatoes and buttered broccoli spears.

Recipes for Nourishing Meals Both Delicious and Penny-Wise

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

To borrow a bright phrase from a home economist friend, "chill winter winds may whet the appetite, but they don't have to blow the food budget down doing it." This is quite true if menus are planned around an entree or main dish that features meats and combinations thereof in the plentiful and economical class. Nourishing foods need not be dull and unimaginative, nor do delicious dinners need to be difficult to make or expensive.

Budgets are back in style for sure now that the holidays have skipped forward into the tax season. There's always a bright side to consider—meats with a thrifty price tag not only save money if bought wisely, but they can inspire a good cook to feats of imagination. An ingenious cook, sauces, seasons and cooks penny-wise purchases with an eye to producing dishes fit for her personal Royal Court—her own family.

Ground beef is one of the best budget meat buys reminds the American Meat Institute. This versatile meat shines in many inexpensive dinner creations such as hamburger variations, skillet specialties, meat loaves and an endless number of delicious baked dishes.

Beef pot roasts often are excellent buys, particularly when the canny shopper selects her meat with a thought for leftover treats. Never underestimate the Above: crisp green peppers are stuffed with a hearty mixture of ground beef, onions and tangy blue cheese. Then they are baked in tomato sauce for a wonderful family treat.

Left: a simple but oh-so-good baked dish is Scorsese Corn Bread Squares. In each crumbled sausage meat, a sliced onion is layered with corn bread and canary seeds. Serve with a baked vegetable such as brussels sprouts au gratin.

'Concerned Parent' Series

Role of Father Subject to Many Disturbing Influences

The modern father is often painted as a man who spends countless hours about the house, playing with his children, mowing the lawn, presiding at the barbecue and generally performing an important family function. But how many men do you actually know like that? Dr. Stanley Miezio asked the audience at the third of the 'Concerned Parent' series at Wilson Junior High School.

Speaking on 'Father is Important Too,' Dr. Miezio said that a hundred years ago, father was the unquestioned head of the family, but in recent decades the image has shifted so that the home is wife or even child dominated. In almost everything one reads, the mother's role is played up and the father's down. Family members are considered individuals rather than as part of a unit. The domination of father has given way to weakness, feelings of inferiority and apathy. Mother has had to take up the slack, and as a result has become strong and self-sufficient.

Shape His Role
There are many influences that shape a man toward the paternal role he will play with in his own family, the speaker noted. Among the most important are his own childhood experiences with his father. The young father patterns his image after the one he carries of his own father, and he projects the same strengths and weaknesses to his children. Also important is the kind of father he becomes, is his motivation for marriage and having a family. His relationship with his wife and all other family members, including in-laws, helps form his role as a father. So does his image of himself.

Should See Anger
The speaker said he was not referring to occasional bursts of anger when he spoke of marital hostilities. A child should see anger, he said, and learn that it can be resolved without damaging a relationship.

Another father attitude that can damage him is the notion that kids are women's work. This type of father believes he has finished his part of child rearing when he brings home his pay. He gives 'no time' as an excuse for not establishing a relationship with his child. Other fathers are affected by mixed emotions about having offspring. If a man had a secure relationship with his own parents, he will probably be able to give that to his child. Sometimes a man tries to serve his own emotional needs through fathering, seeking to live through the child a success of his own.

Success Rubs Off
The noisy or 'pseudo' father uses the child to inflate his ego through the child's achievements. The busy father indulges in non-stop labor. He has no time for fathering. If the woman fills the gap his absence creates, and does well, the father shames. If she fails, it is her fault. This kind of father seeks recognition from the outside world, and comes home only to rest.

Immature fathers or those with emotional problems are often over-protective. They want non-challenging love from the child and make the child passive and dependent. Too high religious or moral standards can also lead a child to feelings of guilt and self-condemnation.

The rejecting father can be one who is too ill, who works away from the city or who drinks. Rejection may have nothing to do with his feelings. A parent can be physically in the home yet be paternally absent.

A Joint Project
Dr. Miezio says that the problems that affect a relationship between parent and child can seldom be broken down to fathering or mothering. Parenthood is a shared task and accomplishment.

Father may find that an unhappy relationship with his wife will cause him to reject the home altogether. He may transfer self-hatred to the child. He may identify with his own father, and reject his son as he feels the father rejected him. Or he may see himself in the role of competitor with the child as he was with the father or sibling. A father may wish to see the child as unchallenging to himself and so belittle the child. At times a father will seek from the child the emotional needs he cannot fulfill in his marriage.

Hard on Them
The love and acceptance a father shows both his wife and children are important, the speaker said. He admitted that he had dramatized some of the problems, and that he had perhaps been hard on the fathers. He does feel, however, that too many fathers, not necessarily because they want to have given up the role of fathering.

Father's presence is essential to normal sexual identification for both boys and girls, he said. His presence helps a child learn to show emotion, and how to channel his aggressions. He helps reassure the growing child as he approaches the teen years and is assaulted by renewed concerns.

The speaker noted that parents who attend programs such as this, sponsored by the Outagamie County Mental Health Association and the Yavettes, are already sensitive to the needs of their children. Maturity is something for everyone to aspire to, he said, both for themselves and their children.

In conclusion, Dr. Miezio, chief of the Children and Adolescent Unit at Winnebago State Hospital, said that he has found these words appropriate:

If a child lives with security, he learns to have faith in himself.

If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight.

If a child lives with acceptance, he learns to love.

If a child lives with fear, he learns to be apprehensive.

If a child lives with recognition, he learns to have a goal.

If a child lives with pity, he learns to be sorry for himself.

If a child lives with approval, he learns to like himself.

If a child lives with jealousy, he learns to feel guilty.

If a child lives with friendliness, he learns the world is a nice place in which to live.

The final program at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Wilson will be a panel telling of community resources and questions.

Budget Dishes Full of Flavor

value of leftovers in a family rich with children... a beef roast can be enjoyed with all the trimmings the first day of serving and then, sauced and seasoned properly, it can become an equally delectable adaptation when servings.

The wide assortment of beef available offers thrift buys in the form of chuck roast, rump, heel of round and English (or Boston) cuts.

Other meats easy on the pocketbook are stew meat (stews from Irish to French ragout are all delicious), ox joints (these go well with winter vegetables or spiced sauerkraut), plate or brisket (try these cuts with cabbage and carrots baked in the oven)... short ribs (we suggest making them Polynesian with a touch of brown sugar and pineapple slices)... and shanks.

In my book, it's the recipe that really proves the point. Just reading today's collection... savoring the ingredients, one by one... illustrates how wonderful they will taste when cooked and piping hot.

SWEET SOUR SAUCE FOR TONGUE
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 1/2 cups boiling water
10 Ginger Snaps, finely rolled crumbs
1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper

1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1 pound cooked beef tongue, thinly sliced

In a saucepan, dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Stir in the with all the trimmings the first day of serving and then, sauced and seasoned properly, it can become an equally delectable adaptation when servings.

FIESTA PEPPERS

8 medium green peppers
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon dried oregano
1 teaspoon dried basil
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
2 cups seasoned croutons
2 cans tomato sauce with mushrooms
1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)

Cut off tops of peppers; remove ribs and seeds. Chop edible portion of tops, set aside. Wash peppers. Place peppers in salted boiling water and simmer for five minutes. Drain peppers and set aside.

In hot butter, saute chopped green pepper, onion and celery until tender. Add garlic, oregano, basil, salt and pepper. Mix well. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine egg, Worcestershire sauce, beef, croutons and three-fourths cup tomato sauce. Stir in blue cheese. Add green pepper mixture and seasonings. Mix well.

Stuff peppers with mixture. Pour remaining tomato sauce over peppers and bake uncovered for one hour. Recipe serves six.

Spaghetti stretches the last of a beef roast into a delicious main dish in this adaptation of a famous recipe. This luscious leftover idea comes as a welcome recipe to all homemakers budget conscious this time of year.

IRISH STEW
2 pounds boneless lamb for stew, cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
1 bay leaf
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Water to cover
12 small white onions
4 white turnips, quartered
4 carrots, cut in 2-inch pieces
3 celery stalks, cut in 2-inch pieces

Flour for gravy, if desired. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge lamb cubes in seasoned flour. Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add marjoram, bay leaf, parsley and enough water to cover the meat.

Cover tightly and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Add onions, turnips, carrots and celery and continue cooking about 30 minutes or until vegetables are done. Discard bay leaf. Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. Recipe makes four to six servings.

SAUSAGE-CORN BREAD STRATA
2 pounds sausage meat
2 large onions, thinly sliced (about 1 1/2 to 2 cups)
1 (15-ounce) package Corn Bread mix
1 cup milk
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds

Crumble sausage into large skillet. Add onion. Cook 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Drain well. Prepare Corn Bread mix according to package directions using one cup milk and two eggs. Stir in caraway seeds. Arrange half sausage-onion mixture in an ungreased 9-inch square baking pan. Pour batter over, spreading evenly. Arrange remaining sausage-onion mixture on top. Bake in 425-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cut into six portions; serve hot. Makes six servings.

SPAGHETTI STROGANOFF

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup beef bouillon
1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, drained
2 cups cooked cubed roast beef
1 1/2 teaspoons finely chopped dill
1 teaspoon salt

Books committee members have been reading this past week were discussed.

The next meeting will be March 16 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fellenz.

The regular meeting of the Women of the Moose will be at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Moose lodge.

Marriage Promises Exchanged

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church was the setting for the Sunday wedding of Miss Barbara Marie Mason and Dennis Lee Hopfensperger. The Rev. Hilbert P. Hilgendorf officiated at the 2 p.m. single ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Mason, 320 E. Harding Ave., and the late Mr. Mason. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hopfensperger, 913 E. Winnebago St., are the bridegroom's parents.

Eugene Mason, a brother of the bride, escorted her to the altar. Miss Darlene Kline assisted as maid of honor and Mrs. Dennis Schultz as bridesmaid.

A brother of the bridegroom, Dane Hopfensperger, served as best man. Groomsman was Dennis Schultz. Ushering duties were shared by Marvin Riepert and Ewald List.

The couple greeted guests at betrothal of their daughter, a reception in the church parlors.

Mrs. Hopfensperger is employed by the R. Sabee Co. Her husband is with the J. C. Penney Co., Inc.

After a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple will live at 1012 1/2 W. Lorain St.

Baptist Society Plans Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the church. The program, 'Salvation Means Broken Walls' will be presented by Circle Mary with Mrs. Earl L. Shearier as leader. Assisting with the program will be Mrs. Harry Filz, Mrs. Catherine Hiebel, Mrs. Lyman B. Clark and Mrs. Albert Brown.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Gerald Bolwerk, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Florence Fiske, Mrs. Herman Weinberger and Mrs. David Ulshafter.

Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Mary Ann Boehnlein and Ronald Greuel at 10 a.m. Saturday at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Jericho.

The Rev. Walter Tuschel officiated at the double ring rite. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roman Boehnlein, route 2, Chilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Greuel, route 1, New Holstein. The couple will live in New Holstein. (Reische Photo)

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Luckily parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Luckily parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Mothers of the Best Loved at Lawrence University above, visit at a tea Tuesday afternoon at the Marshall Hulbert home 218 N. Union St. They are Mrs. J. L. Tibbetts, Appleton; Mrs. Robert L. Sayre, Peoria, Ill.; Mrs. George Keller, Cleveland, Ohio; and Mrs. Louis Pickens, Chicago, Ill. Dressed as the George Washingtons and the James Madisons, the four Best Loved senior women for 1965 were honored at the annual banquet Tuesday evening at Colman Hall. This year's honorees are Miss Kaffie Pickens, Miss Jane Tibbetts, Miss Patricia Sayre and Miss Nancy Sue Keller. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Best Loved At Lawrence Honored

The women who crowded the Colman Hall dining room at Lawrence University were hushed Tuesday evening as the strains of Mozart's Minuet from Don Giovanni rose to announce the entrance of the four Best Loved women of 1965.

Introduced as Best Loved were Miss Kaffie Pickens, Chicago, Ill.; Miss Nancy Sue Keller, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Patricia Sayre, Peoria, Ill.; and Miss Jane Tibbetts, Appleton, Wis. The four senior women were selected by a vote of the upperclass women of the university.

Garbed as the George Washingtons and James Madisons, the four danced into the room and took their places of honor before the assemblage. Among the crowd doing them honor were their mothers, Mrs. George A. Keller, Mrs. Louis Pickens, Mrs. Robert Sayre and Mrs. J. L. Tibbetts. Also present were Mrs. J. D. Dunlap, Chicago; Miss Pickens' aunt, Mrs. Isabelle Smith, Cleveland; a family friend of Miss Keller, and Miss Kathy Sayre, Miss Sayre's sister.

Former Best Loved women in attendance were Mrs. Ellis Brouwer, Wauwatosa; Miss Kay Elwers, Milwaukee; Mrs. Daniel Molesberry, Wisconsin Rapids; Mrs. John Green, Mrs. D. J.

Cooking With Flavorful Cherries

"Take ye fairest cherries you can get, fresh from ye trees, without bruising, wipe them one by one with a linnen cloth, then put them into a barrel of hay and lay them in ranks . . . Thus doing you may have cherries any time of ye year."

—from Martha Washington's cookbook

Obviously, America's First Lady, a very good cook by the way, thought highly of cherries. Today's homemakers still do.

Thanks to modern canning, the colorful, flavorful fruit may be enjoyed at any season . . . without getting involved in the preparation and cooking chores of Martha Washington's day. That's why cherry pie is one of America's favorite desserts.

According to canning experts, almost all of the nation's 43 million housewives will bake at least one cherry pie during 1965. Eight out of 10 of these will be made from canned red sour cherries . . . of the variety that's grown in such profusion in Wisconsin's own Door County orchards.

However, when it comes to cherries, even the cherry pie favorite is but part of the dessert story. There are puddings, cakes, buns and a host of other delectable dishes. Cherries spark salads, combining particularly well with other fruits in gelatin molds.

Danish housewives who contribute the idea for an adaptation of their famous Danish Rum Pudding say it's far better to make a separate dessert for the children in the family than to stint on the rum in the recipe. So for the small fry, an old-fashioned rice pudding liberally served with maraschino cherries is suggested as a delicious substitute.

Add to these ideas the recipes diced pineapple, half cup cherries for Cherry-Glazed Cake and ryes and lemon juice; chill. Cherry-Cheese Buns and the Garnish pudding with cherries result is a fine collection of and pineapple. Serve with cherry desserts throughout the year.

CHERRY-GLAZED CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
3 egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup currant or red raspberry jelly
1/2 cup (8-ounce jar) red maraschino cherries, drained
1/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon rum
1 tablespoon water

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. In bowl, cream butter; gradually add granulated sugar, beating until fluffy. Blend in egg yolks and vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beating thoroughly. Pour into a greased and floured ring mold or 9-inch tube pan. Bake in 275 degree oven 1 1/2 hours or until cake tests done. Cool; remove from mold. Heat jelly; mix with 1/4 cup maraschino cherries, chopped. Spread over cake. Blend confectioners' sugar with rum and water until smooth. Drizzle over cake. Garnish with remaining cherries, halved.

DANISH RUM PUDDING WITH CHERRY SAUCE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1 can (1 pound, 4 1/2 ounces) sliced pineapple, drained
1/2 cup syrup reserved
3 eggs, separated
1/4 cup light rum
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Water
1 jar (8 ounces) red maraschino cherries, drained and syrup reserved
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Mix gelatin and sugar; beat egg yolks with pineapple syrup; blend into gelatin. Heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Add rum. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into cream mixture. Turn into 1 1/2-quart mold. Chill several hours. Reserve four pineapple slices, dice remainder. Add enough water to cherry syrup to make one cup. Mix sugar and cornstarch in saucepan; blend in syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils 1/2 minute. Add

CHERRY-CHEESE BUNS

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1/4 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup shortening
2 teaspoons salt
5 cups sifted enriched flour
2 eggs
Melted butter or margarine
3 ounces cream cheese, softened
1 can (1 lb.) cherry pie filling
Streusel topping

Dissolve yeast in water. Heat milk until almost simmering. Into large mixing bowl measure sugar, shortening and salt. Stir in milk until sugar dissolves and shortening melts. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in about 1 1/2 cups flour and beat until smooth. Beat in yeast and eggs. Stir in enough more flour to make a soft dough. Onto lightly floured board or pastry cloth turn out dough and knead until smooth and satiny, 5 to 8 minutes. Shape into ball and place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled, about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Meanwhile, grease baking sheets or baking molds. Divide dough into 36 equal-size pieces; form into balls. Place on baking sheets, 3-inches apart, or place one ball in each mold. Lightly brush tops with butter. Let rise in warm place until doubled, about 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. With finger make indentation in center of buns. Spoon 1/2 teaspoon cream cheese into each indentation. Fill with 1 teaspoon cherry filling. Sprinkle each with 1/2 teaspoon streusel topping. Bake 20 to 30 minutes, or until golden brown. Immediately remove from baking sheets or molds. Cool on wire racks.

STREUSEL TOPPING

In small mixing bowl combine 1/4 cup flour and 1/4 cup sugar. Cut in 2 tablespoons butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs.

Disgusted Divorcee Reminded Eligible Males Still Exist

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you tell me why a widow or a divorcee is considered a sure thing by every male I've had the poor luck to meet these past two years?

I'm a 32-year-old divorcee who holds a responsible position. I dress in good taste, my necklines don't plunge and I can talk intelligently about contemporary affairs, books, art, and music.

I'm tired of going out with men who think you owe them your life just because they buy you a dinner. I've been called old-fashioned, prudish, archaic, mid-victorian, sadistic, and masochistic just because I am not interested in extra-marital sex.

I've heard every line imaginable, but the one last night was unique. What do you think of a man who wants to take the club to the ace. West returned another trump to dummy's queen. South ruffed a low club, led a trump to the king and discarded a spade on the king of clubs. He then ruffed another club with his last trump and led a spade toward dummy.

West stepped up with the king of spades and led another spade to dummy's queen. Declarer could cash two good clubs, but could not get to his hand for the ace of spades. Dummy had to give up the last trick to East's king of diamonds, and South was down one.

South was on the right track until he ruffed the fourth round of clubs with his last trump. The correct play is to discard a spade on this trick, allowing West to win with the queen of clubs.

West must lead from a hand that contains only five spades. Dummy gets a trick with the queen of spades, and declarer discards his two diamonds on dummy's last two clubs. West takes two clubs and a diamond, but nothing else.

There's nothing really difficult about making West lead a spade away from his king. You just have to take everything but spades out of the West hand and then thrust West into the lead. The ability to make this kind of play at the table is like running a four-minute mile; you can't do it unless you think you can.

Partner opens with one no-trump, and the next player passes. You hold: S R H 10-5-4 D K 9 8 7 5 3 2 C 10 6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. Game is unlikely, since partner has only 16 to 18 points, and you normally need about 26 points for game at notrump and 29 or 30 points for game in diamonds. You can probably make eight or nine tricks at diamonds even if your partner has no play for one notrump.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband comes from one of those families whose motto is "All for one and one for all."

In the 18 years we've been married my husband has spent at least half of his spare time helping his brothers and sisters build and repair their homes. In all fairness I should tell you, Ann, that eight years ago when we built our home his relatives pitched in and helped. We could not have afforded this lovely home otherwise.

Last year my sister-in-law carefully set their home on fire with a cigarette. Now my husband spends all his spare time rebuilding with the rest of the family. He usually takes our daughter along to play with her cousins. I sit home alone because my sister-in-law is a bore.

American Organist To Open Abbey Series

Concert by Ann Frances Byrne Scheduled
For Saturday Night at Norbertine Church

St. Norbert Abbey, De Pere, will open the 1965 Series of organ recitals Saturday with an 8:15 p.m. program by Anne Frances Byrne, distinguished concert organist.

Artist-pupil of Dr. Charles M. Courboin, Miss Byrne is a native New Yorker. She is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, holding the diploma and post-graduate diploma in piano. She also has earned the bachelor of music degree in Catholic Liturgical Music from the Gregorian Institute of America.

In 1953 she made her debut as an organist at the American Academy of Arts and Letters, New York City, and has since played several recitals at the academy and at the Cathedral of Saint John the Divine.

Many Concerts
Miss Byrne also has played at St. Paul Chapel, Columbia University, Christ Chapel of Riverside Church, and the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, all in New York City.

Outside the New York area she has played at Woolsey Hall, Yale University, Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., and the National Cathedral in Washington. She recently completed a European recital-tour.

The American Organist had this to say about one of her recitals:

"Ann Byrne is a young lady with a kingsize amount of drive and intensity which she transmits with excitement and a considerable amount of thrill."

Casavant Organ
St. Norbert Abbey Church has been the scene of several outstanding recitals by nationally and internationally-known organists since the dedication of the organ in June, 1959.

The instrument, a three-manual organ of 40 ranks, contains 2,390 pipes, and was built by Casavant Freres Limitee, of Saint-Hyacinthe, P.Q. The organ was last heard in recital when Victor Hill played on April 11, 1964.

Tickets for the Byrne recital may be purchased at New

Dick Van Dyke Plays Lawyer On TV Today

BY TV SCOUT

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — "The Case Of The Pillow" on The Dick Van Dyke Show is not only a delicious ribbing of domesticity in suburbia, but also a wild spoof on television's slick attorneys. Rob Petrie hauls a peddler into a small claims court after Laura buys at a discount some supposedly eiderdown pillows, which turn up smelling like chopped chicken feathers.

6:30-8 (Channel 5) — The Virginian has a rather obvious drama, "You Take The Highway," concerning a brother-and-sister team who resort to almost anything to get their herd to market. (COLOR)

7-7:30 (Channel 2) — The importance of Jack Mullaney on My Living Doll increases as he is let in on the secret of the inner tugging of Julie Newmar. Missing is Julie's mentor, Bob Cummings, who has "suddenly been called away to Pakistan."

7-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Patty Duke Show, which has been busy all season playing host to rock 'n' roll boys, again goes all out to welcome a pair of long-haired lads; Brittain's Chad and Jeremy. In this episode we discover that it was Patty who really discovered the "Liverpool sound."

7:30-8:30 (Channel 11) — The British are still coming in droves. In command of Shindig! are Peter and Gordon, fresh recruits with an artillery of bombastic tunes.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — Wednesday Night At The Movies goes out on the deep end for a watery, post-World War II drama, "Submarine Command," William Holden is blamed for the death of two men by William Bendix after a routine patrol mission.

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — Burke's Law has a rodeo setting in "Who Killed The Man On The White Horse?" But there aren't many unexpected thrills or chills after a movie cowboy hero is slain.

8-10 (Channel 2) — The most exciting contribution on The Danny Kaye Show is the U.S. TV debut of Germany's sultry singing fraulein — Elke Sommer. Also active are comedienne Pat Carroll and the huggable tyke, Victoria Meyerink.

'That's My Line' and Sullivan Show are Ozzie and Harriet Nelson et al. HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's all, "Meet the Press" and "I've Got a Secret." Still riding the air waves from the following season is indestructible Jack Benny — but it's reported this will be his last year with a weekly show.

Walt Disney-Lassie
It was 11 years ago that Walt Disney and Lassie went on the air. It's interesting to note that Rin-Tin-Tin also started that year, but lacked the staying power of its collie rival.

Lawrence Welk made his debut in 1955 — 56, also "Gunsmoke," and Alfred Hitchcock. None of the new shows of the following season remain and only "Wagon Train," "Perry Mason," and "To Tell the Truth" from 1957-58. The former two are expected to fade with this season.

Short Lived
Donna Reed is the lone survivor from the 1958-59 season. Two hardy Westerns started the following year — "Bonanza" and "Rawhide." Among the 5-year-olds are "My Three Sons," "The Flintstones," "Andy Griffith Show," "Candid Camera" and "Break the Bank."

The 1961-62 season brought the first of "I Love Lucy's" seven years; after a lapse, Lucille Ball came back to television, vision series has dropped with though without her original co-star. The only newcomer of that season to maintain uninterrupted consideration themselves lucky. Series just don't have the staying power they used to.

New Safety Group Will Elect Officers

Appleton Area Council Names Nominating Unit to Pick Slate

A slate of officers will be presented for election at a March 9 meeting of the newly organized Greater Appleton Area Safety Council.

A nominating committee was appointed Tuesday at the organizational meeting for the safety council, attended by 24 school, government and industry representatives. The meeting was held in the Worcester Art Center lecture hall at Lawrence University.

Committee Named
Named to the nominating committee were Harold Barker, chairman, Edward Krueger,

William Berfield and Henry Jobelius. They will select two more members and will present a slate of officers at the next meeting, at which suggested policies and bylaws also will be discussed.

Clifford Kemp, Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. safety director and a director of the Wisconsin Council of Safety, opened the meeting in the absence of Glen Reed Jr., first aid chairman for the Outagamie County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Reed and John Dixon, Red Cross chapter chairman, formulated the idea of organization of a safety council.

Kemp encouraged each person present to bring another representative to the March 9 meeting.

History Given
Kemp gave a short history of the safety movement and said Wisconsin was the first state to have workmen's compensation. Hazards are always with us, but today we have better tools to combat them, he said, noting that many things have built-in safety measures.

Phillip LaValle, director of field service with the Wisconsin Council of Safety, discussed how the state group can be of help to the new organization.

Owen Kuehnstedt, a member of the Red Cross chapter's executive committee, said this meeting was "a call to action."

He said Red Cross basic policy is to support any program needed in a community.

Safety Measures Described
Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell described safety measures in city departments and noted the great need of safety measures in industries, schools and homes. He offered assistance to the new organization.

Kemp recognized eight persons for their work in bringing about this meeting: Reed, Dixon, Kuehnstedt, Krueger, Berfield, Appleton Police Chief Earl Wolff, Harvey Priebe Jr. and Miss Marlene Thern, secretary of the planning committee.

Legislators Want Knowles' Name On Tax Proposal

MADISON (AP)—Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles was told in no uncertain terms today that Democratic legislators want his name on the first tax proposal aimed at balancing the record $832 million 1965-67 budget.

Assembly Speaker Robert Huber of West Allis said he "put it on the line" in talks with the chief executive.

Huber said he told the governor Assembly Democrats want to see him sponsor a tax bill before they stand ready to talk compromise.

Huber's observation came after legislative leaders met with Knowles at a second meeting the governor called in an effort to reach bipartisan agreement on how to balance the budget.

His proposal will require $110 million in new revenue. The first meeting was held a week ago.

In the latest session, Knowles took exception to a report critical of his proposed budget.

The Public Expenditures Survey of Wisconsin Monday listed possible cuts in the governor's calendar as present facilities are needed mainly to serve the $832 million budget, contending overtaxed and Donahue Engineering Co. was presently preparing plans to modernize the

Error in Rezoned Property Description May Cost $6,000

Lost Assessment Value Revealed To Appleton Public Works Board

A mistake in the legal description of property rezoned by the city council last year may cost Appleton $5,000 to $6,000 in lost assessments.

The disclosure was made at Tuesday's board of public works meeting at the city hall when the property owner, Chester Laux, asked for a downward adjustment in Ballard Road assessments through his attorney, Don Jury.

The land involved in the 12-acre tract in the far northeast corner of the city — bounded by Longview Avenue, Pershing and Helen streets and Ballard Road — was at one time being considered for an Arlan's Department store development.

Commercial Rate
When city officials voted to rezone the property from residential to commercial it was their intent the entire tract be involved. After the council action, Laux was assessed the commercial rate, $13.06 a running foot, for Ballard Road special assessments.

However, it was later discovered that not all the property had been rezoned because of the description error.

In keeping with its original intent to rezone all the property, the council then passed another resolution in which the correct description was given.

Laux is claiming that while he and city officials thought all of his land had originally been rezoned commercial, it in effect was not. In the meantime the property was assessed for the new road on Ballard with the commercial rate applying rather than the $5.76 per foot residential rate.

Still Residential
Jury told the board his client felt his total special assessment bill of $9,006 should be adjusted downward to reflect that portion of the property which was actually still residential at the time special assessments were levied.

While most members of the board felt there should be no reduction in the assessment because the council "acted in good faith and showed its intent

100 Respond in Discussion of Future Areas of Policy Action

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox Valley Human Rights Council renewed the spirit of Lincoln as it formally organized Monday night at the Lincoln School.

Its formation adds the missing link to the chain of similar councils from Green Bay to Oshkosh.

With almost 100 members the council has embarked on its first expansion program. Members were asked to express preference for working on one of five major policy fields.

They are education, housing, research, employment and legislation.

The education committee's present duty will be to establish a speakers' bureau to spread the message of the council's purpose and activities.

The housing group will concern itself with current and future housing practices in the community and, if need arises, aid in locating housing for minority groups.

Fact Finding
Research will direct the fact finding mission to see what is being done in the community to insure human rights. Eventually part of its work will be aiding teachers and churches in locating information.

Employment attitudes toward minority groups not now living within the community will be explored. This committee, also, may have more future activity as situations present themselves.

The legislation committee will see immediate action in studying and then lining up support for Gov. Knowles proposal on housing. A brief outline of it to 1902. He graduated from Marquette School of Dentistry in 1905 and returned to Kiel where he practiced until 1924. He moved to Appleton, where he practiced until 1924. He married Mabel Nicholson in 1909.

Survivors are the widow, one daughter, one son, one brother and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Wichmann either as an individual or Funeral Home. Friends may call from 3 p.m. Friday.

A memorial fund is being established for Appleton Memorial Hospital and for retarded children.

No program is contemplated for colleges or universities since most are handling their problems locally or through national fraternity or sorority ties. She proposed careful study of the legislation.

Stimulate Discussion
The council will attempt to stimulate public discussion and understanding of the rights of all people regardless of race, creed, color and national origin.

To carry them out they will enlist the aid of the community in all walks of life.

Annual dues will be set at $2 per individual, $3 per couple and $5 for organizations. All will have a single vote on the council except organizations which will have two.

The first official board of directors meeting will be at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Rev. Ralph Sandgren. Committee and chairman will be named.

Members of the board are the Rev. Mr. Sandgren, chairman, Summer Richman, vice chairman, Mrs. Phillip Weiner, secretary, Marshall Granros, treasurer, Mrs. James Granros, an. Rev. David Kiefer, Mrs. Patrick Lennon, Harold Schneider, Mrs. Frederick Smith, James P. Sutherland, Rowland Todd, Mrs. Schutte, and Mrs. Louise Wise.

They were unofficially elected in December and automatically took office with formal council organization.

Access Points Recommended For Expressway

Fox Valley Plan Group Discusses Right-of-Ways

The technical advisory committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission Tuesday recommended establishing five controlled access points on the E. College Avenue Expressway between Speel School Road and State 55.

The committee also recommended that there be at least one-half mile intervals between the access points in order to provide efficient service and smooth traffic flow.

The committee discussed at great length the right-of-way for the proposed Tri-County Expressway, but didn't reach any definite conclusions.

L. W. Empey, district engineer for the state highway commission, who is voluntarily advising the committee in an unofficial capacity said the best system would be a 210 foot right-of-way in designated rural areas, and a 150 foot right-of-way in designated urban areas.

Right-of-way Plans
The 210 foot right-of-way would include six lanes, a 60 foot median, and roadside ditches to act as drainage facilities. The 150 foot right-of-way would include four lanes, a 60 foot median, and roadside drainage facilities.

The committee will give the matter further consideration at the next meeting when maps showing the suggested right-of-way are submitted.

In other action, the committee recommended for approval the preliminary engineering survey for the "55 Expressway" which will run between Combined Locks and Kaukauna and through Little Chute.

The City of Appleton submitted its recent $15,000 water feasibility study to the committee for consideration and recommendation.

Two Receive Minor Injuries in Separate Appleton Accidents

Ronald Hoffman, 31, 1114 N. Division St., received a cut to his forehead Tuesday when the car he was riding in was involved in a two-car accident on E. Atlantic at N. Division streets. He was not hospitalized.

Hoffman was a passenger in a car driven by his twin brother Richard, 31, 325 E. Greenfield St., which was going east on E. Atlantic and was involved in a crash with a car being driven south on Division Street by Donald E. Hart, 52, 1749 N. Elmer St.

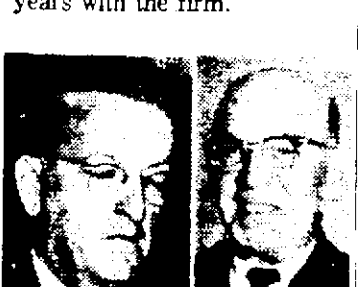

Eric Ebben, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ebben, 1609 S. Douglas St., was cut on the head in a two-car crash in the 1200 block of W. Prospect Avenue.

Mrs. Ebben, told police she was blinded by the sun as she struck the rear of a car being driven by John J. Bauer, 30, Brookfield.

Four Officials To Retire at Paper Firm

Service Ranges From 45 to 26 Years at Combined Locks Co.

COMBINED LOCKS — Four key personnel of the Combined Locks Paper Co. have announced plans to retire Feb. 28 with a combined service total of 138 years with the firm.

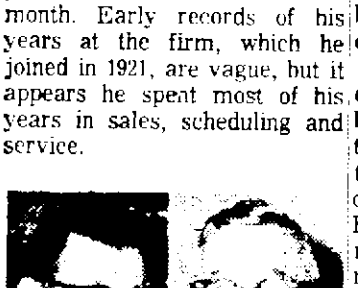

Carroll Wilmot

They are Glenn Carroll, 217 W. Prospect Ave., Appleton; Noel Wilmot, 1730 Lakeshore Drive, Menasha; William C. Devine, Combined Locks, and Gustave Smedlund, 78 S. Meadows Drive, Appleton.

Carroll, who served as vice president in charge of purchasing, traffic manager and head of raw materials handling and storage, will be leaving after more than 45 years with the company. He has agreed to render intermittent service on a consulting basis.

He started at clerical work at the firm after being discharged from service in 1919. He moved to purchasing agent and later duties as traffic manager and head of raw materials and storage were added. He was named vice president in 1957.

Sales Service
Wilmot will be completing 43 years in sales service this month. Early records of his years at the firm, which he joined in 1921, are vague, but it appears he spent most of his years in sales, scheduling and service.

Devine Smedlund

He left the company briefly in 1939, but returned in 1940 to take up old duties. His main job in recent years has been establishing customer satisfaction and retaining pleasant business relationships with various product users.

Mill Superintendent
A third retiree, William C. Devine, joined the firm in 1939 and served as paper mill superintendent for 15 years. In recent years he has served in an advisory capacity in machine operations. He joined the firm as night superintendent and held this position for nine years before being named paper mill superintendent in 1948.

Smedlund joined Combined Locks Paper Co. in 1936 and served as titular head of engineering services until he took a short leave in 1939. Returning in 1942, he has served under four chief engineers and gained a reputation among all for the quality of his work.

Set $500 Bond for Man Charged With Carrying Switchblade

Gerald A. Schaffer, 21, 34 1/2 Sherman Place, is being held in the Outagamie County jail on $500 bond. He appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday and was charged with carrying a switchblade knife.

County Judge Gustave Keller continued the matter until Tuesday to give Schaffer time to confer with his attorney. He was arrested by county authorities Monday after he had allegedly drawn the knife at a tavern on U.S. 96.

Twenty-Five Years of Service to scouting was commended at the Holy Name breakfast Sunday morning at Sacred Heart Church when a 25-year veteran's pin and plaque were presented to Clayton (Whitey) Welson by Eugene Blick, right, institutional representative. Welson joined Troop 25 in 1938 as assistant scoutmaster and in 1949 helped organize Sea Scout Ship 11 at McKinley School. At present he is advancement chairman of Troop 25. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Descendant Of Pioneer Family Dies

James E. Grignon, 81, formerly of Kaukauna and a member of the famous fur-trading Grignon family in Wisconsin, died Tuesday morning at the Outagamie County Golden Age Home after a long illness. He also was related to the earliest settlers of Outagamie County, the St. Louis family of Little Chute.

Grignon was born June 13, 1883 in Little Chute to Alexander and Philome St. Louis Grignon. He was the youngest of 10 children, graduating from Kaukauna High School in 1902.

Grignon married Elsie Kain Smith in 1914. Their only son, Sylvanus, died in 1935. Grignon was a millwright.

He had been a resident at the Golden Age Home since 1963. Grignon is survived by a brother, Robert, of Munising, Mich.

Administration Eyes New Crime Laws

Aimed at Organized Lawbreakers

BY JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — A thick package of new crime laws aimed both at fighting organized crime and salvaging the young criminal is under study by the Johnson administration. Administration sources said today the crime package probably will place special stress on laws granting immunity to witnesses in certain categories of organized crime investigations. While it is expected to propose major new laws in the fields of narcotics, arson, firearms and wiretapping, it will seek also to put federal money into the fight against juvenile delinquency. It may even contain a thorough overhaul of bail practices to grant pre-trial freedom to eligible defendants even if they can't afford bail.

One source stressed that the crime bills are a long way from completion and may not be ready for Congress until spring. These are the lines along which administration experts are thinking as they assemble the crime package, which will be accompanied by a special message from President Johnson.

Need Immunity — Immunity: Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and his predecessor, Robert F. Kennedy, have pleaded for laws that will grant immunity from prosecution to witnesses in certain federal criminal investigations. The laws being considered by the administration probably will deal with investigations of bankruptcy fraud and interstate travel in aid of racketeering. The bankruptcy dodge is one of organized crime's more recent incursions into legitimate business. —Firearms: Johnson is likely to propose strict controls over the sale and registration of firearms — possibly forbidding their sale to minors under 18.

and to persons with criminal records. —Arson: Under consideration is a law to make arson in connection with interstate travel a federal offense. The Justice Department is convinced that gangsters have reaped millions in insurance money after burning buildings they own, either directly or through fronts. —Narcotics: The administration is considering some sort of legislation that will primarily affect the users of narcotics. —Wiretapping: Despite reversals in Congress, the administration plans once more to ask for a law permitting, under strict controls, the tapping of telephone lines in certain criminal investigations, and the use in court of evidence gained from such taps. —Juvenile delinquency: The government would, under a proposal being considered, expand its system of "halfway houses" to improve the chances of young offenders to face society after they've been in prison. —Police training: The administration is considering a bill under which the federal government would contribute to the training of local law enforcement officers. Still being debated is whether the aid would be for a law permitting, under strictly financial or involve federal personnel.

Troops Sent to Area

Reports of Viet Cong Battalion Near Saigon Spark Large Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A large military operation began today with the discovery of a battalion of Viet Cong in an area 32 miles southwest of Saigon.

Vietnamese troops were rushed into the area in early afternoon. No detailed reports were available from the scene. Military spokesmen also reported that fighter-bombers attacked and sank a large, apparently metal-hulled Viet Cong vessel in a cove in Vung Ro Bay about 235 miles northeast of Saigon.

Heavy Fire — Heavy fire from the Communist vessel drove off a Vietnamese navy junk and observation planes before the assault by air force planes.

35 Killed — They listed 35 Americans killed in action, 196 wounded and one missing. Most of those casualties were in Viet Cong terrorist bombings of service-men's billets.

Vietnamese losses for the week were put at 290 killed, 655 wounded and 610 missing. A high percentage of these losses were suffered in a battle in Binh Dinh Province Feb. 7 and 8, and casualty figures for the action are not complete.

Viet Cong losses of 795 killed and 105 captured were claimed. Chief of State Phan Khanh Sui returned to Saigon this afternoon from Poulo Condore, an island prison off the southern tip of South Viet Nam. There he ordered the release of more than 120 political prisoners, including 17 who had been under death sentence.

Terrorist Killed — A military firing squad executed a Viet Cong section leader accused of stirring up a violent antigovernment demonstration Monday in the central Vietnamese town of Thang Binh.

Both Affiliated — Both unions are affiliated with the AFL-CIO. Reuther had mentioned in a letter to Carey and other IUE officials the election dispute between Carey and Paul Jennings of Newark, N.J., for the presidency of the IUE, and said a merger would solve internal dissension in Carey's union.

Today's Chuckle — Some of the world's greatest deeds have been accomplished by two types of men — those who were smart enough to know it could be done, and those too dumb to know it couldn't.

No Way Out Seen Erhard Rule Is in Trouble

BY CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government has gotten into a pot of trouble in world affairs, and so far there is no sign that he sees a way out. It is far from being all his fault. But an election is coming up in September, and if there's a rap to be taken, he'll have to take it.

It is bad enough that he has both the Arabs and the Israelis mad at him over the agreement to ship arms to Israel and 's suspension. On top of that he seems powerless to halt a triumph for the rival Communist state of East Germany. This would be the first-class reception promised by Cairo for its chief, Walter Ulbricht.

Bearskin Rug — One West German newspaper suggested in a cartoon that the red carpet President Gamal Abdel Nasser is rolling out for Ulbricht looks something like a bearskin rug, with Erhard the bear.

The arms agreement was made five years ago by his predecessor, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, with U.S. backing. When Nasser threatened to end diplomatic relations with East Germany, Erhard stopped the arms.

Bonn was afraid of what might happen if Egypt gave full recognition to East Germany. So far no non-Communist government grants such recognition. Bonn had visions of a squad of new Communist ambassadors fanning out from East Berlin with promises of aid to other neutralist countries in return for diplomatic prestige. This may still happen.

Brought Blast — The ban on arms to Israel brought the expected blast of indignation from Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol. It was heated by authoritative reports that Erhard had also promised not to establish diplomatic relations with Israel. These have been denied in Bonn.

The form of the ban also annoyed the U.S. government. The West Germans went back to their old policy of sending no arms to any area of tension. Bonn has already rebuffed suggestions that it take a more active part in Cyprus and Viet Nam. Many people in other countries have also been irritated at the prospect that the hunt for Nazi criminals will come to a virtual end in West Germany May 8. The West Germans say they are only trying to follow the rule of law. The West German statute of limitations says new proceedings can't be started after 20 years. Likely Extension — It seems likely that the hunt will be extended by Parliament. Communist propaganda has been making much of a suggestion that a nuclear mine belt be laid along the West German side of the Iron Curtain. Where the idea first arose is not clear. One of West Germany's best known military commentators, writing in a highly respected newspaper, said the West German army leadership proposed it. Denials have come from both Bonn and Washington, but the idea has been taken seriously — and nervously — by many people besides the Communists. Things were not improved when the West German Supreme Court opened proceedings against the commentator on suspicion of treason.

215 More Men Assembly Bill Would Increase State Patrol

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Assembly has set out on a own path to help cut down the highway death toll. A bill to expand the state highway patrol from 250 to 465 men was introduced Tuesday under bipartisan sponsorship. The proposal included provisions for the use of county patrolmen as long as they are not assigned to areas outside their usual jurisdiction without their permission.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles' legislative safety message did not include a request for a patrol increase.

$2 Million More — The larger patrol would cost $2 million during the first biennium and $3.2 million in the following two-year period. The increased size of the patrol has been favored for several years by safety organizations and experts as one of the best ways to reduce Wisconsin highway accidents and deaths.

Assemblymen Frank Nikolay of Abbotsford, Democratic floor leader in the Assembly, and Glen E. Pommerening, R-Wausau, are co-authors of the bill. The Assembly gave preliminary approval to a resolution that would increase from two to four years the terms of the state's five constitutional officers. However, it turned down a motion to limit the governor to two four-year terms.

Daylight Time — In the Senate, approval was given to extend daylight saving time from the last Sunday in September through October but the action was not permitted to stand.

Sen. Earl Leverich, R-Sparta, leading spokesman for farmers, said the Senate had acted without giving persons from rural areas a chance to speak on the bill. He also said he was concerned about the safety of children who might have to wait for school buses in the dark.

The Senate responded to Leverich's plea by sending the bill to committee where a hearing will be held.

Oleo Bill — Another oleo bill was introduced in the Senate. This one would repeal the color ban on oleo and reduce the tax from the present 15 cents a pound on the uncolored product to 10 cents a pound on the colored product.

Two bills involving liquor were also offered. One would permit bowling alleys to obtain liquor licenses from the State Article 19 of the U.N. charter. Tax Department at a yearly that article would deprive the cost of $400. The other would exempt golf course clubhouses from the prohibition against per-vice because their refusal to serve under 21 years of age ap-pay peace keeping assessments pearing in places where liquor has put them two years in arrears on their U.N. dues.

Johnson hailed what he called a proud and welcome record of a soaring economy over the last 48 months. This, he said, is the answer to whether this decade was to be "the soaring — or the sagging — 60s."

But he emphasized that problems lie ahead at a time when "the drumbeat of history is quickening," with a need for increasing the job supply by 50 per cent and more than doubling the rate of the national production, by 1985.

Formal Vote in U.N. Sought

China Believed Behind Move to Force Showdown

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates believe Peking was the mastermind behind Albania's demand Tuesday for a formal vote that would force the U.S.-Soviet showdown in the United Nations which the General Assembly has been striving to avoid.

Most diplomats refused to speak on the record, but they said privately it was obvious Red China was behind the sudden move by chief Albanian delegate Halim Budo, which caught other assembly members completely off guard.

Stammering with surprise, Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana declared the entire membership had agreed to the voteless procedure "in an overwhelming desire not to have a confrontation at the present session."

Budo's move was a clear challenge to the United States, which claims it can muster the two-thirds vote needed to invoke Article 19 of the U.N. charter. That article would deprive the cost of $400. The other would exempt golf course clubhouses from the prohibition against per-vice because their refusal to serve under 21 years of age ap-pay peace keeping assessments pearing in places where liquor has put them two years in arrears on their U.N. dues.

Truman Speaks On U. S. Actions In Viet Nam

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — "Our presence in South Viet Nam and in other places on the globe has but one purpose," said Harry Truman, "and that is to help keep the peace—to keep ambitious aggressors from helping themselves to the easy prey of certain newly formed, independent nations."

"If we abandon these to the new marauders, we are again headed for deep trouble."

The former president made the comment in a statement he issued Tuesday expressing confidence in President Johnson's handling of the Viet Nam crisis.

"President Johnson knows what needs to be done," Truman said. "His is the responsibility for working out a practical solution. I have every confidence he will do so. In this situation, he deserves and should have the confidence of everyone."

Unemployment Figures Explained by Bureau

BY NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob of course, but the bureau uses Brown has a job with the Nuts & Bolts Co. but didn't work last week because of a strike at the plant. Question: Is he employed every month or unemployed?

He's employed according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. During one week in every month, some 35,000 families in a carefully chosen cross-section are interviewed by a special group of Census Bureau workers.

But suppose, while on strike, Brown goes over to the Screw Washer Factory to apply for a job there? get the national unemployment rate.

In that case, he will show up on the government's jobless rolls along with some four million other Americans.

The names of Bob Brown, the Nuts & Bolts Co. and the Screw Washer Factory are mythical.

make the decision. It's all done by electronic computer back at the Census Bureau in Washington. The computer is programmed to decide who is listed as employed, unemployed or not in the labor force.

What about Pete 15 who has no paying job but puts in about 20 hours a week on chores around his father's farm? He is considered employed as an unpaid family worker.

People with regular jobs who were absent from work during the survey week because of illness, bad weather, strikes or various personal reasons are listed as employed.

Except, as in Bob Brown's case, a striker who goes looking for another job is counted as unemployed. If he simply went fishing and waited for the strike to end, he would be counted as employed.

Generally, anyone without a job who looks for work is listed on the jobless rolls.

But then there's the case of a coal miner thrown out of work when the mine was closed permanently.

He gives up looking for work

the total productive effort of the nation.

Similarly, they also must be counted among the unemployed when out of work, the bureau said.

The bureau figures its sample survey of 35,000 households, multiplied to get the nation's total unemployment figure is within 200,000 of the figure a total census would show.

To guard against errors one-fourth of the 35,000 sample households are replaced every month so that no family is interviewed more than four months in a row.

As a further precaution, twice a year a selected number of families are interviewed again by a supervisor to double check the information.

The 35,000 survey households are located all over the nation designed to reflect urban and rural areas, different types of divisions of the country in the same proportion as the nation as a whole, the bureau said.

Dear Dr. Molner. My son is 11 and has a septal defect, a small hole in his heart. Is there any treatment, medicine or radium that can be given to correct this? — Mrs. H M.

Nothing that can be given but this type of defect is often readily repaired by surgery. Your physician would have to decide whether there is need for this.

Dear Dr. Molner. Our son started walking at about a year old, with both feet toeing inward. He is two now and still walks that way. We bought him some shoes to help him walk and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of your booklet. He walked straighter and fell less. The doctor recent ly check his feet and legs and

Chilling Indictment'

Some 'Retarded' Just Not Taught to Read

BY G. K. HODENFIELD ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Too many children are considered mentally retarded only because they have not been taught how to read, a reading expert says.

Gilbert B. Schiffman supervisor of reading services in Baltimore County, Maryland, said that early detection of reading difficulties can increase ten fold a child's chances for a successful school career.

Schiffman spoke to the American Association of School Administrators and later expanded his views in an interview.

He said recent studies showed four out of five pupils in second grade remedial classes attained reading proficiency. In junior and senior high schools, Schiffman said only one out of 10 did and there was a tendency for these youngsters to slip back when remedial instruction stopped.

Schiffman said that as the non-reader goes through the primary grades his problems multiply — he cannot solve problems in arithmetic or social to correct this is to identify the studies, even though he may non-readers at an early age and have the skills to do so because give them corrective studies all he cannot read the examination during their school career.

He said the non-reader develops an inner turmoil that causes him to become a major problem in the home and at school. Schiffman said the only way to correct this is to identify the studies, even though he may non-readers at an early age and have the skills to do so because give them corrective studies all he cannot read the examination during their school career.

Calls Electronic Vote Machines 'Gimmicks'

Assemblyman Opposes Bill Allowing Cities Choice of Alternate to Standard Lever-Type

MADISON (AP) — Electronic voting machines are "gimmicks" that are nothing more than a step backward, Assemblyman Earl F. McEstry, R-Fond du Lac, told the Senate Governmental and Veterans' Affairs Committee Tuesday.

In a public hearing McEstry opposed a bill that would allow municipalities to decide for themselves whether to use standard lever-type or newer electronic voting machines. He is the author of the law that will compel use of voting machines in cities and villages of more than 10,000 population beginning in 1966.

"This is nothing more than a paper ballot all over again in the form of an electronic computer card," he said.

The decision on the bill shouldn't be based on whether or not the electronic machines are cheaper, he said. "You get exactly what you pay for with anything you buy and these voting gimmicks are no exception," McEstry said.

Most of those appearing at the hearing were in favor of the bill.

Dr. Joseph P. Harris, a representative of an electronic voting machine firm in Berkeley, Calif., said the standard machines are obsolete.

He said the electronic machines, which require vote tabulation by computers at a central location, provide a permanent record of votes and are cheaper, more accurate and easier to use than standard voting machines.

No committee action was taken on the bill after Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Denton, asked a delay of a week. LaFave said he wanted more time to check what possible "confusing" effects the new machines might have on voters over 60.

by offering to rezone all the land", the board referred the matter to City Atty. Frederick Froehlich for an opinion.

Jury said the rezoning error was discovered a few months ago when his client was attempting to make a sale and found out some of the land had not been rezoned according to the description.

The board took the position all the land is now zoned for commercial use and the assessment should stand.

No one seemed to know how or who made the error in the legal description.

Ald. Harold Hannemann, finance committee chairman, said he felt it was the original intent of the council to rezone all the property. This could turn out to be a damn costly mistake," he commented.

Hooded Couple Enter Vacant Apartment, Elude Appleton Police

An unoccupied apartment at 125 N. Durkee St. was entered through a broken window early this morning by a young man and a young woman wearing hooded jackets according to a witness who notified police.

Police were sent to the area and surrounded the building. Two detectives entered the apartment by the broken window and made a thorough search before determining the apartment was empty. There was nothing missing from the partially furnished apartment, police said.

The couple had apparently eluded police by slipping through a rear door. Ghana Aide To Speak At Lawrence

G. O. Lamptey, secretary to the Embassy of Ghana, Washington, D.C., will deliver a public address at 7 p.m. Thursday, in the Riverview Lounge of Lawrence University Memorial Union, on Pan-Africanism in World Affairs.

Lamptey's appearance is sponsored by the Lawrence student senate. It follows a similar visit Wednesday to the University of Wisconsin in which he joined a group of internationally prominent speakers in a symposium on foreign policy matters.

His address here will emphasize the American image in Africa. A reception is planned following the talk.

Arrangements for Lamptey's appearance were made by the co-chairmen of the student senate speakers committee, Kristine Sodergren and Robert Dahlberg, both juniors from Rockford, Ill.

$220,000 Bond Issue Floated

First National of Appleton Low Bidder At 2.65 Per Cent

A 2.65 per cent interest rate went to the City of Appleton on a $220,000 general obligation bond issue Tuesday.

The lowest favorable rate was submitted by First National Bank of Appleton. A Chicago financial house was the only other bidder.

In addition to recommending acceptance of the First National bid the board of public works:

- Approved purchase of 19 acres from Henry Emmers for $60,000 to be added to the southside high school site. The price averages $3,158 an acre.
- Agreed to buy the Mielke property on the far southside for a future elementary school site providing remainder of the land is annexed to the city.
- Received a report from the fire chief that 20 items need to be finished at the new No. 1 fire station before the city officially accepts the new building.

In Spite of His Blindness, Prof. Leslie Zacharias is able to conduct his classes at Carthage College, Kenosha, in much the same manner as sighted teachers. When introducing new words, he likes to write them on the blackboard so that students will be able to see what they look like as well as how they sound.

Blind Oshkosh Native Good, Tough Professor

KENOSHA (AP) — His eyes may be blind, they say of the new language professor at Carthage College, but not his mind.

"He's a tough one," added one of the 110 underclassmen in his German classes. "But he's good."

German is one of the four foreign languages in which Leslie Zacharias is fluent, but which he has never seen in print.

His interest developed after he lost his sight in an illness when he was a 16-year-old Oshkosh, Wis., high school boy. The loss of vision did not interrupt his high school education and he went on to Oshkosh State University, then to the University of Wisconsin and finally to the universities of Kiel and Marburg in Germany. After turning to Wisconsin for his undergraduate degree he went back to Germany for six years to do his doctoral studies at the Munich and Goettingen.

My teaching methods are essentially the same as those of sighted teachers," Zacharias says. "Naturally, I do less blackboard work, but I do use it, especially when introducing new words."

Holding that a teacher must himself continually be learning, Zacharias finds Braille too cumbersome and slow, and spends much of his time listening to tape recorded materials from great libraries here and abroad, and to student readers on topical material.

He gets around the Carthage campus without help, and communicates from his home in a faculty car pool, which has not, however, taken him up as yet on the universities of Kiel and Marburg in Germany. After turning to Wisconsin for his undergraduate degree he went back to Germany for six years to do his doctoral studies at the Munich and Goettingen.

Tipsy Driver Fined $175

William Schramm, Menasha, Pleads Guilty to Charge

KAUKAUNA — William Schramm, 34, 719 Ninth St., Menasha, pleaded guilty of driving while under the influence of an intoxicant and operating a vehicle without a driver's license when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, municipal justice, this morning.

He was fined $150 on the intoxication charge and $25 on the second violation.

He was arrested about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday when his car left the road on Tenth Street and hit a tree. He tested 15 on the drunkometer.

Wolf River Basin Group to Discuss Water Problems

The Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission technical advisory committee on water resources will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. to discuss various aspects of water use in the Wolf River region.

The morning will be devoted to subcommittee meetings. At 1:30 p.m. the subcommittees will submit their reports to the full committee. Some of the topics to be discussed will be small watershed development, land use planning, public water supply wetlands, pollution abatement industrial water needs, and legislation.

Gordon A. Bubolz, chairman of the commission, said the meeting will lay the groundwork for the overall comprehensive plan for water resources.

The meeting will be held at the Home Mutual Building, 1001 W. Foster St., Appleton.

CD Director to Address Explorer Scout Cabinet At Richmond School

Valley Council's Explorer Cabinet will meet at Richmond School in Appleton on Wednesday.

Lee E. Penney, Outagamie-Appleton Civil Defense Director will arrange and coordinate the use of Explorers for a "Disaster Day" exercise in May.

Also to be discussed by Cabinet President Steven Adams of Post 6 in Appleton will be the new explorer program—Sports That Last a Lifetime—and the forthcoming council-wide explorer activity in the basement.

For Black Creek Man

State Funeral Directors Oppose Proposed Law

MADISON — The Outagamie County delegation in the state legislature encountered strong resistance Tuesday as it asked for the endorsement of an assembly committee for legislation to permit a Black Creek resident to be licensed as a funeral director. He is not qualified for a state license under present laws.

The Wisconsin Funeral Directors Association sent two of its chief officials to Madison to argue that the bill introduced on behalf of Robert Turkow of Black Creek would break down licensing standards that have been in effect for years.

Requirements Disregarded

The measure would permit any person who had been employed by a funeral director before 1959 to be licensed as a funeral director without regard to later licensing requirements, if he lives 10 miles or more from a first, second or third class city.

Turkow has become the owner of the Burdick Funeral Home and furniture business at Black Creek. He had been employed there for many years.

He said the bill would assure the community of continued funeral home service, and that if he is not licensed the community won't be able to attract another licensed director because of the relatively small trade area involved. He told the committee that his business also operates an ambulance which is a community asset, although it has traditionally operated at a financial loss.

Association Complains

The funeral directors association officers complained that the bill as drafted would permit scores of widows and other heirs of deceased funeral directors to qualify for licenses in defiance of the education and other requirements they have persuaded the legislature to

Senate Debates County Reform

Despite Appeals, Some Amendments Are Introduced

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Senate waded into debate today on a bill that would make a sweeping change in the method of picking supervisors in 70 of the state's 72 counties.

Despite appeals by members of a Legislative Council committee that drafted the proposal, at least a half dozen amendments were introduced. Sponsors of the legislation said it would have the best chance of meeting a Supreme Court edict to reapportion counties if the amendments were rejected.

Squeaked By

But the first in the series squeaked by on a roll call vote, 16-15.

The amendment puts a two per cent deviation on population classifications established under the bill. Counties with less than 25,000 population would have 21 supervisors; counties with 25,000-50,000 would have 31; counties with 50,000-100,000 would have 39; and counties with more than 100,000 population would have 47 supervisors.

Sen. Robert Knowles, R-New Richmond, introduced the amendment that would allow the counties within two per cent of motor outside and used dry the next population classification powder to extinguish the blaze to elect the number of super Damage was limited to smoke vision permitted in the larger class.

Kaukauna Fire Run

KAUKAUNA — Firemen were called at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish a fire in an electric motor at the Kaukauna Club. The fire started in a motor outside and used dry powder to extinguish the blaze. Damage was limited to smoke vision permitted in the larger class.

Bargains Lure Foreign Money Into Red Coiffers

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — A pint of Stolichnaya vodka, one of Russia's best, costs a Soviet citizen 3.07 rubles, the equivalent of $3.41 at the official exchange rate. A foreigner with hard Western currency can buy it for 84 cents.

Russians pay the ruble equivalent of $5 for a kilo of coffee, just over 2 pounds. The foreigner pays $1.98.

These lower prices for foreigners are in a new store opened by a Soviet government foreign trade organization. It is in an area where the government has assigned apartment houses to foreigners.

The store is part of an effort to earn foreign exchange. This became noticeable last year after the Soviet Union had to buy 12 million tons of grain abroad because of a poor harvest. That ran down foreign exchange reserves.

Shops at international airports increased efforts to sell gifts and small handicrafts to persons who could pay in foreign currency. A foreign currency bar was opened in a downtown hotel, a special fur shop in a big store.

Advertising was launched to try to get foreigners to pay hard currency for such Russian goods as cars, motorcycles and refrigerators as gifts for relatives in the Soviet Union. Such purchases get immediate delivery while ruble customers go on waiting lists.

The new food store compares favorably with stores in Scandinavia. It contrasts with the frequently dirty, smelly and generally unattractive food shops catering to Russians.

These stores for the masses are also government-owned. Prices in them include a large element of indirect taxes. Foreigners in Moscow seldom use them. Diplomats and foreign journalists, airline representatives and businessmen living here order most of their staple foods from export houses in Denmark. Fresh meat and vegetables come by overnight train from Finland.

Although expensive by Western standards when ordered this way, the foods are cheap compared with prices on the Russian market. More important, in many cases, they include things unavailable here.

The new store's prices apparently are aimed to take business from Copenhagen and Helsinki.

Take the pint of vodka, for instance. The Copenhagen price is 81 cents and to this must be added about 20 per cent for shipping and a nominal Russian customs duty. So the new store's price is lower.

On Scotch whisky it is a bit higher. Foreigners here buy from Copenhagen without paying the taxes that make whisky so expensive in most Western countries. They get a fifth of good grade for $1.24, plus 20 per cent.

The new store charges $2.06 — about the same price as the small commissary in the basement of the U.S. Embassy here — that Americans can use.

VISTA Volunteers Will Serve Full Time

BY MARGARET WILSON
CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Volunteers in President Johnson's war on poverty are not giving a year of their life to be stamp lickers or cheap labor for overworked local welfare agencies.

They may not all be professional social workers but Volunteers In Service To America — An AP News Analysis

VISTA — are much more than what is commonly associated with the word volunteer.

And the first 13 VISTA trainees know it.

"These volunteers are sub-professionals or will be," said Morris Cohen, director of their training program. "They will be able to give their full time to extending services to people of poverty."

Live With Poor

VISTA volunteers will live as well as work among the poor, he said, and probably will hold responsible positions in local anti-poverty programs approved by the federal government.

The volunteers radiate enthusiasm and confidence and admit to only a few apprehensions.

"I won't feel like an outsider

I was born and brought up in the slums of Chicago the first 10 years of my life."

Speaking of Mrs. J. E. Holmes of Spring Lake, Mich. She and her husband, a retired superintendent of schools, raised two children and now are looking forward to working among migrant farm workers in Southern California as VISTA volunteers.

Have Idea

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mawhinney, who have lived in all parts of the world during his Army career, also have an idea of what to expect in VISTA.

"We have seen poverty and we think we understand it," said Mrs. Mawhinney, the mother of three grown children. "We have lived in many places, in some difficult situations."

Mawhinney, 66, a mustached, pipe-smoking retired colonel, nanced

The two couples, representatives of one of two very different generations in VISTA, have the desire to help others but they also found retirement was not personally satisfying.

Age Unimportant

Age has little to do with the volunteers' enthusiasm or respect for each other. Both Elizabeth Brown, 81, Kingston, N. C., who feels "30 years younger," and lanky Richard Guske, 20, are united in the desire to "help people help themselves."

Jacqueline Steingold, 22, Detroit, is ready to use her psychology-sociology degree from Wayne State University.

The program is federally financed

Y to Sponsor Discussions for Youth Leaders

State Consultant On Child Behavior To Lead Meetings

The Appleton YMCA is sponsoring a series of discussion meetings for a limited number of youth leaders actively working with adolescents in the community.

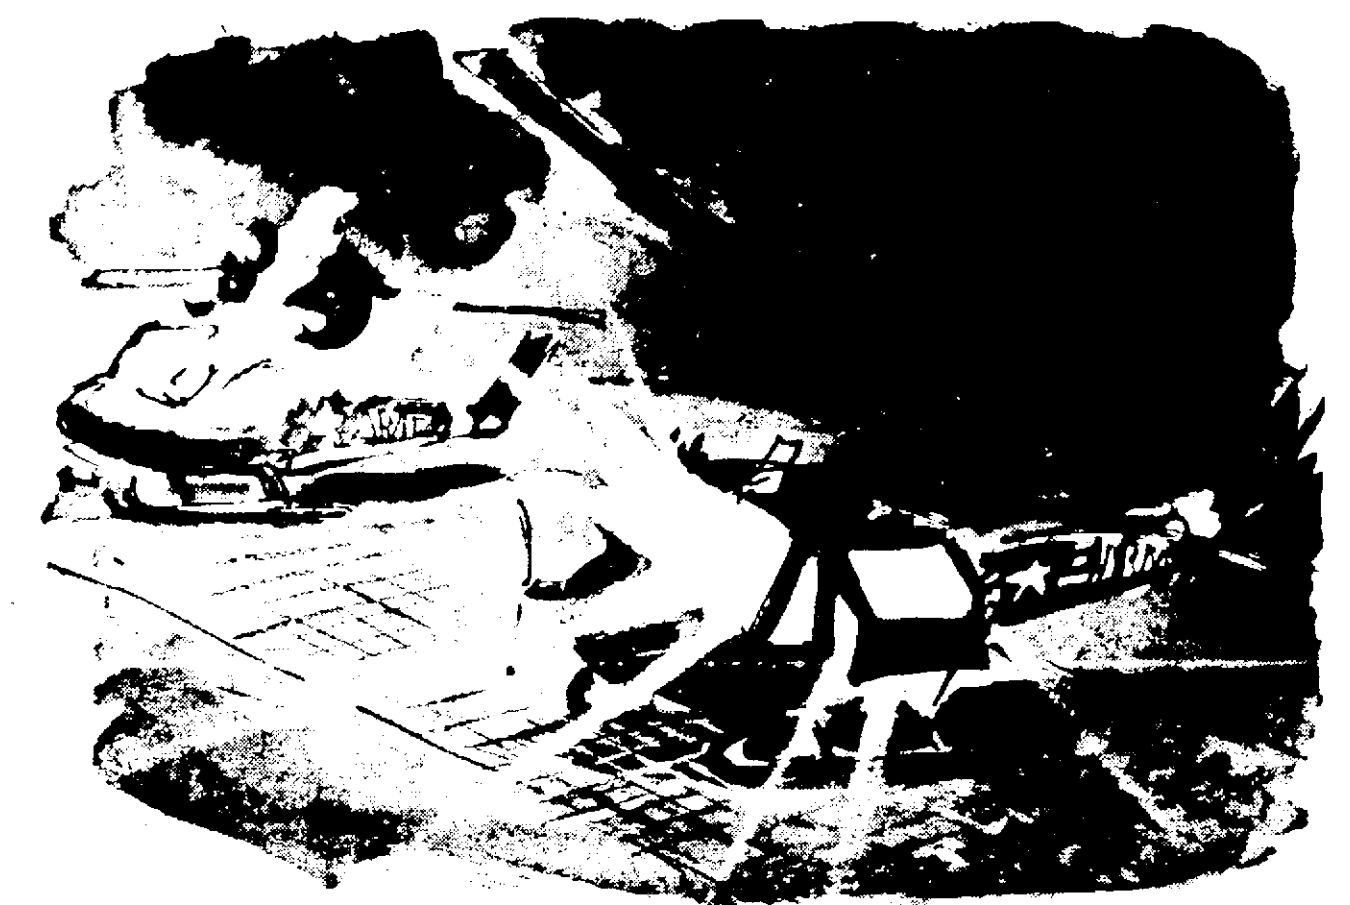

A meeting of the group is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the YMCA cafeteria.

Aaron Savage, Green Bay, a consultant with the Division of Child Behavior and Development of the State Board of Health, is in charge of the meetings. Another consultant from the State Board of Health also will be present.

Purpose is to secure a better understanding of adolescents, how they view things, their needs and necessary adjustments in a complicated, changing world.

Participants will study a process that can be of value in enhancing the adolescent's capacity to communicate with himself, his peers and adults.

The discussions will use material provided by the youth leaders from their first-hand experience with youth, as well as a variety of films, film strips, plays and excerpts from literature.

KVS Will Offer Course to Aid Metal Workers

KAUKAUNA — A special course for persons employed in metal working industries will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Kaukauna Vocational and Technical Adult schools in the Fox Cities.

Instructor will be Edward J. Powers, senior product engineer of the Bay State Abrasive Co., Newport, Mass. The course will include a movie and a question and answer period. No charge will be made for the 1-night class.

Topics to be covered include abrasives and their uses, grinding wheel technology, types of bonds and their characteristics, uses and abuses of grinding products and applications of grinding principles. The course is designed to appeal to machinists, tool and dye makers and men involved in tool and cutter grinding.

U. S. Accidents Kill 104,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accidents killed a record 104,000 Americans last year and cost the nation's economy more than $15 billion.

The Public Health Service also reported Monday night that accidents hospitalized about 2 million persons.

Dr. Paul V. Joliet, chief of the Division of Accident Prevention, said the number of accidental deaths was up 3,000 over 1963. Auto accidents claimed 48,000 lives last year, up 5,000.

Xavier Ranked No. 1 in Final WCIAA Survey

Madison Edgewood Quint Moves Up To Second Spot

LA CROSSE (AP)—Appleton Xavier, winner of 20 straight games this season, today was named Wisconsin's No. 1 Catholic high school basketball team in the final Big Eight ratings of the WCIAA board.

Xavier, which has bowed only to Marinette Central in the state championship game last spring in the last 70 outings, topped the ratings from the outset.

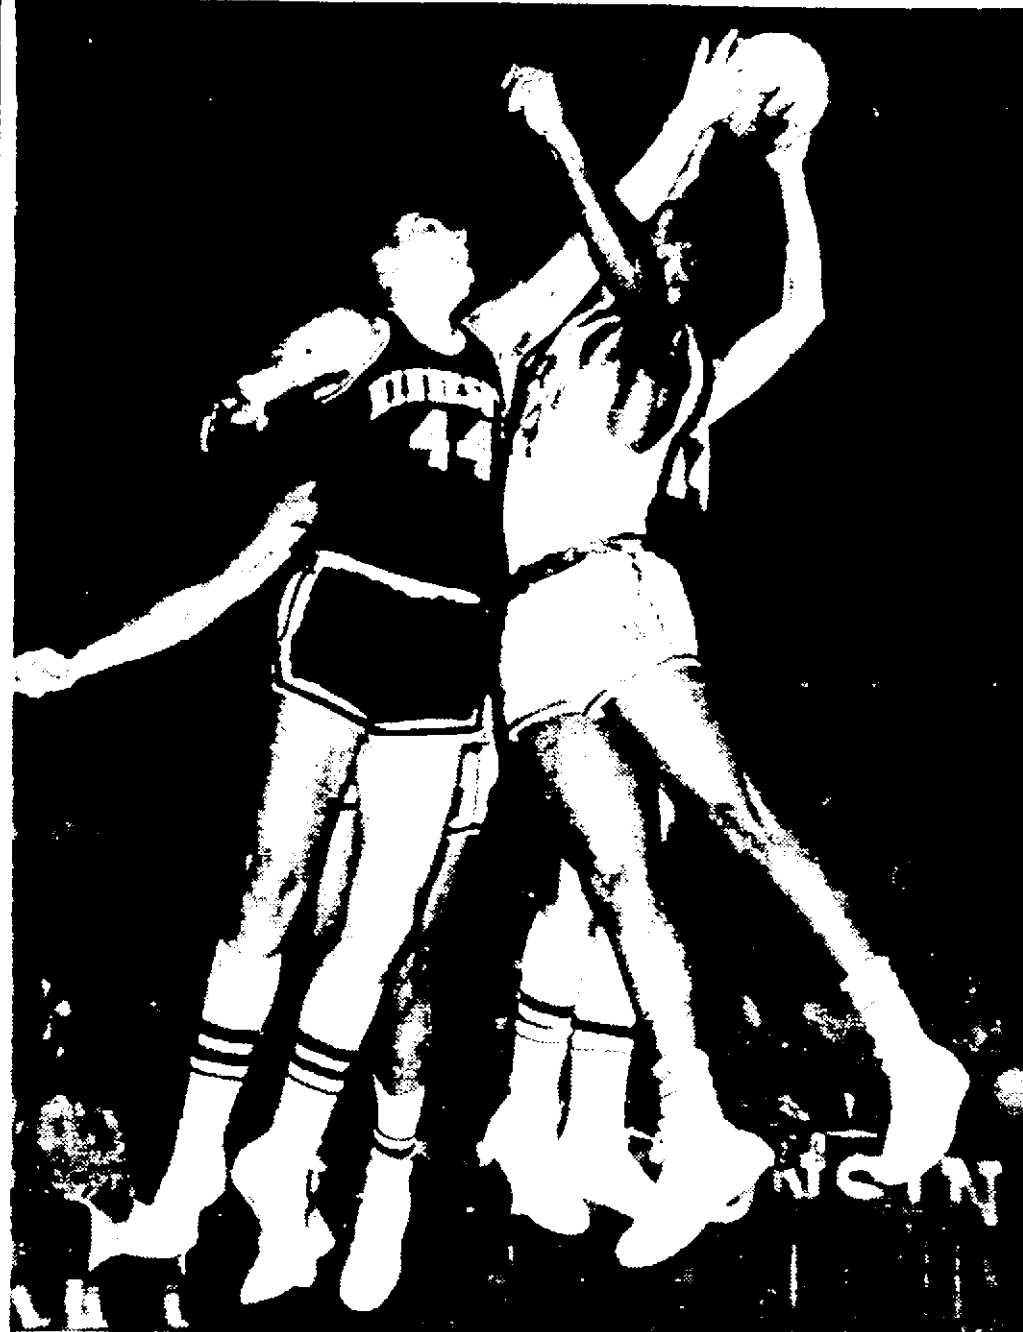

The Hawks edged Madison Edgewood for the No. 1 honor. Edgewood, third for five straight weeks, moved up to second after finishing its regular season with an 18-0 record by belting Darlington 90-52 Tuesday night.

Milwaukee Messmer took third with a 16-3 record as a result of its second straight victory over intra-city rival Marquette, which dropped two notches to fourth despite a 17-3 mark.

The final Big Eight ratings:

1. Appleton Xavier, 20-0; 2. Madison Edgewood, 18-0; 3. Milwaukee Messmer, 16-3; 4. Milwaukee Marquette, 17-3; 5. Milwaukee Don Bosco, 15-4; 6. Milwaukee Pius XI, 15-3; 7. Chippewa Falls McDonnell, 14-6; 8. Eau Claire Regis, 14-6.

Special Mention — Oshkosh Lourdes, 13-6.

Wisconsin Bowed to Minnesota, 101-91, in a Big Ten Conference game in Madison Tuesday night. Mel Northway (44), of Minnesota, Ken Barnes, of Wisconsin, and Louie Hudson (14) are shown battling for the ball in first half action. Hudson paced the Gopher win with 34 points. (AP Wirephoto)

Ole Jorgensen to Retire As Neenah's Cage Coach

Has Guided Rockets to 506 Wins

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Ole Jorgensen, who has guided the Neenah High School basketball destinies for 39 years, will retire from coaching at the close of the current season. The announcement was made at a board of education meeting Tuesday night.

Jorgensen, a Neenah High School alumnus, will continue as athletic director — a post he has held since 1944 — and head of the physical education department for the school system.

The veteran coach, whose team, (barring three victories in the upcoming tournaments) will make its last home appearance against New London Friday night, has a record almost unmatched in state basketball coaching ranks.

Including last Friday's loss to Kimberly, Jorgensen's teams had won 506 games and lost 256.

Ole Jorgensen

He has numerous conference and lower tournament crowns to his credit as well as a state championship in 1930 and a second place in Class B in 1929.

Position Open

He said Tuesday that he made his decision known to the board at the start of the school term and the board decided to make the announcement before contracts are signed for next year. As with other coaching and teaching positions, the position will be open to members of the system as well as outsiders.

"After 40 years of coaching one year at Roosevelt Junior High School in Appleton, I feel it's time to quit and watch a few games," the veteran coach said Tuesday. He pointed out that the Neenah athletic program has grown to where it now includes eight sports plus intramurals instead of the former three or four and the athletic directorship demands more time.

Never Missed Practice

Jorgensen's coaching feats have been well known for years but one little known fact is that he has never missed a game or even a practice session. He

Gophers Hand UW 101 to 91 Big Ten Defeat

Minnesota Hits 55.7 Per Cent of Shots From Floor

MADISON (AP)—It's too bad that the Big Ten doesn't award a booby prize. Wisconsin's basketball Badgers would be a top contender.

The Badgers staged another of their "game" struggles before wilting once again and dropping a 101-91 decision to powerful Minnesota Tuesday night before a crowd of 7,933 at the UW Fieldhouse.

The Badgers, who have trouble putting together 40 minutes of good play, appeared bent on springing an upset when they took the floor against Minnesota. However, the Gophers withstood the initial shock and went on to a convincing triumph.

Employing a zone press at the outset, the Badgers set the early pace, but were unable to pull ahead by more than five points. The Gophers finally moved in front to stay after 13 minutes as Lou Hudson hit on a jump shot to make the score 31-30.

Fancy Shooting

Minnesota broke the press with some fancy shooting and fast breaks. The Gophers took a 49-41 halftime lead as they hit on 22 of 33 field goal attempts, a fabulous marksmanship of 66.7 per cent.

Minnesota gradually built its advantage after the intermission and led by as much as 17 points before Wisconsin rallied to make the final count more respectable.

The Gophers finished with a shooting mark of 55.7 per cent, compared with the fieldhouse record of 56.3 per cent set by Ohio State last year. Minnesota connected on 39 of 70 floor attempts, while Wisconsin hit on 37 of 89 for a respectable 41.5 per cent.

Hudson, a 6-foot-6 junior, captured scoring honors with 34 points as Minnesota boosted its franchise. The Braves had won Big Ten record to 7-1, one game behind front-running Michigan. The Gophers have two games to go in Milwaukee under orders of play with Michigan as they strive for their first conference title since 1937.

Mel Northway, a 6-foot-8 key statement by Braves president in Minnesota's 15-3 overall record, scored 20 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Archie Clark contributed 15 points and Dennis Dvoracek and Dan Yates 10 points each. The Gophers controlled

Stiff Penalties Set By NFL for Early Signing of Players

Team Could Lose Draft Picks; See Cooperation of AFL, NFL

BY PATRICK MCNULTY
PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — Winds of eventual cooperation with the American Football League were blowing today at the National Football League's annual meeting following a crackdown on premature signing of college players.

There were indications from the closed door sessions that 12 of the 14 team owners favored some sort of liaison with the rival league.

Nothing Official

Opposed to any immediate cooperation with the AFL, it was unofficially understood, were the New York Giants and the San Francisco 49ers — the only NFL teams with rival AFL teams on their doorsteps.

The Giants are competing with the New York Jets and the 49ers with the Oakland Raiders in the San Francisco Bay Area.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle had nothing official to say about any between-league cooperation, including a common draft or merger.

The league owners Tuesday set up stiff penalties for any teams involved in signing college players before they are officially available for the pro ranks.

The resolution spelled out a previously announced NFL plan to prevent incidents such as last season's signing by the Minnesota Vikings of three Oklahoma University players before the Gator Bowl game.

Rozelle told a news conference that any team guilty of premature signing could lose its entire draft choices for "as many years as the commissioner decides."

Rozelle said the resolution would be sent to Jim Corbett, Louisiana State athletic director.

NFL Attendance Hit 4,563,049 in 1964, Says Rozelle

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — The National Football League, for the first time last season, had a paid attendance of more than 4 1/2 million fans — an increase of 9.6 per cent over the previous year.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced today that 4,563,049 fans paid to see the 98 NFL games last year. He added that 59 of the games drew capacity crowds.

The NFL paid attendance first topped 3 million in 1958 when the then 12-team league played 72 games. There have been 14 teams playing 98 games per season since 1961.

Duel Shawano and Clintonville

Papermakers Face 2 Foes

MID-EASTERN CONFERENCE

- Kimberly
- Menasha
- Clintonville
- Kaukauna
- Shawano
- Neenah
- Two Rivers
- New London

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Shawano, with its 4-game success string, and Clintonville, in the path of the title-minded Kimberly Papermakers in a double round of Mid-Eastern Conference basketball attractions this weekend.

Coach Gene Mason's pace-setting Papermakers invade Shawano Friday night and return to the Kimberly court Saturday to average an earlier 67-60 loss to Clintonville.

Menasha, the only remaining aspirant to the M-E throne room, treks to Kaukauna Friday and battles Neenah on the Bluejays' floor Saturday. A pair of victories for the Papermakers over the weekend would insure a tie for the championship with but one game left on the M-E schedule. Kimberly boasts a full game lead over the Jays.

Other Friday-night encounters send Two Rivers to Clintonville and New London to Neenah. The remainder of the Saturday night agenda finds Shawano at Two Rivers and Kaukauna at New London.

2 Victory Streaks

Shawano's 4-game streak includes victories over New London, Clintonville, Menasha and Kaukauna, marking the Indians as the most improved team in M-E ranks. Kimberly will carry a 5-game victory skein into the Shawano gym.

Kimberly will be further tested with the back-to-back dates against two rugged opponents. Menasha, on the other hand, is not expected to encounter difficulty against an injury-riddled Kaukauna contingent and cross-town rival Neenah.

Milwaukee Left in Dark On Braves' Offer to Leave City Earlier

Baseball Publication Quotes McHale's Prepared Statement

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Braves prepared but never delivered in Milwaukee a statement saying the club had offered $500,000 for the right to leave early for Atlanta according to the Sporting News.

A story by Oscar Krahn in the Sporting News, a weekly baseball publication from St. Louis, said the announcement telling of the half-million dollar offer had been prepared for a news conference in Milwaukee last Thursday.

In an edited statement, the Braves told of their offer to contribute part of ticket sales income to a Milwaukee campaign to land another major league franchise. The Braves had wanted Big Ten record to 7-1, one game behind front-running Michigan. The Gophers have two games to go in Milwaukee under orders of play with Michigan as they strive for their first conference title since 1937.

The Sporting News quoted a statement by Braves president in Minnesota's 15-3 overall record, scored 20 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Archie Clark contributed 15 points and Dennis Dvoracek and Dan Yates 10 points each. The Gophers controlled

Warriors Blow 15-Point Lead

Washington University Downs Marquette, 72-66

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Marquette basketball team has demonstrated again it can't stand prosperity, blowing a 15-point lead and bowing 72-66 to Washington University Tuesday night.

The results left the Warriors with their 13th defeat in 20 games and more trouble ahead. They go to Peoria, Ill., for a game with rugged Bradley Saturday night. After that, there are only two more weeks and five games left in the season. The Warriors trailed briefly early in the game, pulled out in front and had a 38-33 edge at halftime. They boosted their lead to 55-40 before they started to slip.

Steelers Trade Nofsinger for Cards' Kortas

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis football Cardinals traded defensive tackle Ken Kortas to the Pittsburgh Steelers Tuesday for reserve quarterback Terry Nofsinger.

Kortas, a 6-foot-3, 275 pounder from Louisville University, was the Cardinals first draft choice in 1963 and was a reserve as a rookie last season.

Nofsinger, of the University of Utah, is a four-year veteran of the National Football League. He will be the third quarterback on the St. Louis roster. The others are Charley Johnson and Buddy Humphrey.

Houston Astros Open Drills With Batting Practice

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Houston baseball Manager Luman Harris sent 31 young Astros through four hours of batting practice in balmy, 80-degree weather Tuesday.

He also let his charges know what to expect this spring — hitting, hitting and more hitting.

"We plan to stress batting practice during the entire spring training session," Harris said.

Harris was particularly impressed with catcher Ron Brand, second baseman Norman Miller, first baseman Larry Hoyt and infielder Leon McFadden.

Brand was the first Astro to hit the ball out of the park on the second day of the early spring training.

"This guy Brand really showed me something today," Harris said. "I like everything I have seen so far."

Estes Selected to All-America Squad

Former Utah State Cager Given First Posthumous Award Ever

BY ROBERT MYERS
LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Wayne Estes set four goals for himself during his basketball career at Utah State University. He achieved the final one Tuesday — eight days after he was electrocuted in a bizarre accident. He was named to the Associated Press 1964-65 All-America first team.

Heading into his senior year at USU last fall, Estes told Coach Le Dell Andersen he wanted

The single-game scoring record at Utah State's Nelson Field House. (He set it Feb. 4 the night he died—with 48 points against Denver University).

—The USU career scoring mark (He hit it with a total of 2,001 points).

—Victory over arch rival University of Utah on the Utah home court in Salt Lake City (He scored 32 points when Utah State downed Utah 86-85 Jan. 7).

Selection to the All-America first team.

Presented to Coach Andersen, first given posthumously and first given before the end of the regular season, was presented to Coach Andersen in front of 5,000 students in the Nelson Field House, where Estes played his last game.

The occasion was a campus memorial for Estes.

Because of Estes' death, the Associated Press departed from tradition in making the early award. Wayne's All-America teammates will be announced later.

"Wayne wanted this honor more than any other," said Andersen, in accepting the AP first-team certificate. "This would have been his greatest moment."

Estes was killed two hours after the Denver game, when his forehead brushed a high-tension wire drooping close to the ground as the result of an auto accident.

He died almost instantly.

Utah State President Daryl Chase called the handsome 6-foot-6 athlete "an All-America in a hundred ways... the kind of gentleman a university president likes to hand a diploma to at graduation time."

USU established a Wayne Estes Memorial Fund two days after Wayne's death.

The university, which canceled all sports events last week in a tribute to Estes, will resume its basketball schedule Thursday against Denver.

"The team has dedicated the rest of the season to Wayne," Andersen said. "And the fellows don't plan to dull his memory by losing."

While Hilbert tries to regroup its forces after last weekend's loss to Omro, co-leader Winneconne prepares to meet the pesky Foxes on the Omro court in Friday night's top Little Nine Conference clash.

Hilbert had wheeled through 10 straight league games without a setback before meeting up with Omro. The Foxes took a 70-70 victory and remained in a tie for third place with Reedsville.

This Friday, Hilbert travels to Wrightstown and other games. In addition to the Winneconne at Omro contest, will have Freedom at Reedsville, Bear Creek at Denmark and Hortonville at Shiocton.

One of the features of the Winneconne-Omro game will be the scoring duel between Tom Nickel, Winneconne junior and Jeff Stang, Omro sophomore. Nickel currently ranks second in the conference with 252 points and Stang is right on his heels with 251 markers for third place.

Glen Bowers of Freedom continues to lead the league with 303 points.

Winneconne sports the best defense in the league having allowed 45.6 per game. Omro has allowed 67.9 points to opponents. The first time Winneconne and Omro met, the Wolves came away with a convincing 82-63 win on their home court. Since that time Omro has improved greatly.

Reedsville will be out to retain its third place ranking, but the Panthers will have to stop Bowers in the process.

Providence Wins 19th Straight of Campaign

Davidson '5' Extends Victory Chain to 21 With 117-72 Verdict

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota and Vanderbilt took the headlines away from Davidson, Providence, Cornell, St. Joseph's and Connecticut in college basketball Tuesday night.

Minnesota whipped Wisconsin 101-91 on the road to keep alive the Gophers' hopes for their first Big Ten title in 28 years.

Vanderbilt, playing at home, edged Kentucky 91-90 to tie Tennessee for the lead in the Southeastern Conference.

Davidson beat Wofford 117-72 for its 21st straight, Providence kept its status as the country's only major unbeaten team by downing Rhode Island 88-72 for its 19th straight. Cornell made it 14 in a row by defeating Columbia 89-90, St. Joseph's Hawks who heads an NCAA pro-college relations committee.

Stiff Penalties Set by NFL for Early Signings

The NCAA has been highly critical about premature contract signing of college players by both the NFL and AFL.

Money Penalty

Rozelle said the owners had considered slapping a money penalty on an offending team of "about 25 per cent of what the AFL paid for Joe Namath."

The celebrated Alabama quarterback went to the New York Jets for a reported $400,000 — thus the NFL owners had considered a $100,000 fine.

However, this was discarded in favor of taking away draft choices, Rozelle said, because the owners thought this a greater penalty — especially to rich teams in the league.

Rozelle said he, as commissioner, has "absolute flexibility" in assessing penalties. Violations — if they arise — will be dealt with on an individual basis, he said.

Rozelle said his office would keep a sharp eye out for offenders and added:

"I think the colleges will help us in this matter."

Marion Beats Shiocton Quint

Ken Frailing and Tom Brandenburg 75 to 58 Triumph

MARION — The Marion Mustangs, led by Ken Frailing and Tom Brandenburg, rolled past Shiocton, 75-58, in a non-conference basketball game here Tuesday night.

Marion vaulted into a 25-8 lead after the first period lead and were never headed thereafter.

Frailing poured in 22 points and Brandenburg added 15. Dick Suehring rimmed 13 and Ron Schewe added 10 for the victors. Dick Spruz paced Shiocton with 18 markers while Don Gast chipped in with 16.

River Falls Hands New Richmond '5' First Loss, 96-80

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The list of undefeated Wisconsin public high school basketball teams was trimmed to eight Tuesday night as New Richmond dropped a 96-80 decision to River Falls after winning its first 15 games.

In other limited prep action, Alma extended its perfect record to 15 games by edging Wabasha, Minn., St. Felix 69-63, while Cumberland boosted its record to 14-0 with a 71-55 romp over Chetek.

At River Falls, the host Wildcats moved into a tie with New Richmond for the Middle Border Conference lead with 11-1 record.

Al Whitby of Chilton reached the honor ranks by scoring 32, 25, 26 and 28 in his final points in leading his mates to game he lined up 10 straight strikes, then left the No. 10 pin on his 11th delivery.

The previous state mark was 804 by Milwaukee's Len Lejk.

NHL Officials' Charges Listed As Unfounded

4 Referees Said They Were Told to Call 'Good Penalties'

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors has dismissed charges leveled by four former officials at the league's referee-in-chief, Carl Voss, as "completely unfounded."

Voss, who retires at the end of this season after 15 years as boss of NHL referees, had been accused of instructing that only "good penalties" be called against the New York Rangers in a March 1962 game between Boston and New York.

The charges were made by ex-referees Dalton McArthur, Eddie Powers, Jack Mehlenbacher and former linesman George Hayes. McArthur was the referee and Hayes one of the linesman in the Bruins-Rangers game which was won by New York 4-3.

James D. Norris, chairman of the six-man board, issued a statement exonerating Voss.

"We are satisfied that the charge against Mr. Voss is entirely unfounded," the statement said, "and is the product of the malicious distortion of a routine caution given by the referee-in-chief."

The governors said that the charges of the ex-officials had been "fully investigated, aired and elaborated on by the league one year ago."

Powers and the other officials had not presented any new evidence not already examined by the league, the statement said.

Weyauwega Trims Pacelli

Montgomery and Guy Lankford Lead Non-Loop Victory

WEYAUWEGA — The Weyauwega High School basketball team defeated Stevens Point Pacelli, 81-70, in a non-conference game Tuesday night to boost its over-all record to 12-4.

The Indians took a 17-7 first quarter lead and never trailed again. Pacelli, however, came within three points at the end of the third quarter, but Wega turned on the steam to outscore the visitors, 28 to 20, in the final period.

Gene Montgomery scored 21 points for Weyauwega — the top total in the junior's career. Guy Lankford added 19 — also his best output — for the Indians.

Clifford, of Pacelli, was the game's top scorer, with 22.

WEYAUWEGA — Wohlt 4 1 4, Rastler 0 0 2, J. Hildebrand 2 2 2, Kresse 5 5 4, Lankford 9 1 2, Montgomery 8 5 2, G. Hildebrand 5 1 0. Smith 0 0 2. Totals Weyauwega Pius XI in the region's semifinal.

4 Teams Compete In Brillion High's Wrestling Meet

BRILLION — Four teams will compete in the third annual Brillion High School Invitational Wrestling Tournament Saturday afternoon and evening.

They are Green Bay East, Green Bay West, Omro and Brillion.

Brillion won the two previous tournaments, but this year the four teams appear to be evenly balanced. Omro is a slight favorite, due to its recent victory over Brillion in a dual match.

Semi-finals begin at 1:30 p.m. The consolation matches begin at 7 p.m. followed by the championship bouts.

Dominican Edges Memorial '5' in Elimination Tilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Whitefish Bay Dominican and Kenosha St. Joseph survived elimination tests Tuesday night in advancing to regional semifinals of the Wisconsin Catholic High School Basketball Tournament.

Dominican moved into the Region 6 semifinal at Waukesha Friday night by edging host Catholic Memorial 84-83 in overtime, while St. Joseph had little trouble in eliminating Burlington St. Mary 79-50 in a Region 7 elimination.

Dominican exploded for 30 points in the third period, but was forced into overtime as Waukesha's Gary Witkowski tied the count 80-80 with seven seconds remaining in the fourth quarter. Dominican will meet brand 5 1 0. Smith 0 0 2. Totals Milwaukee Pius XI in the region's semifinal.

Andrews' services, dropped a 74-53 verdict to Menasha in the first meeting of the pair. The Jays also rolled over Neenah, 72-45.

Clintonville, hoping to solidify its third place status, squeaked by Two Rivers, 74-71. Coach Carl Buggink's Truckers should, by all indications, have an easier time with the Raiders Friday on their home court.

Coach Ole Jorgensen's Rockets managed a 65-54 verdict over New London in their previous meeting of the season. New London's Len Lathrop maintained a healthy 27-point advantage in the individual scoring race. Lathrop, with an average of 23.5 pre game, has scored 259 points in M-E play. Chuck Meyer, Kimberly's 6-8 senior center, is next in line with 232 points, or a 21.1 average. Lathrop heads the field goal department with 102 while Meyer heads the charity toss brigade with 72 conversions.

Ranger 8 Ready to Blast Skyward for Moon Photo Trip

Spacecraft Will Crash on Moon After 65-Hour Flight

CAPE KENNEDY Fla. (AP) — The Ranger 8 spacecraft was scheduled for launching today on a quarter million mile trip to the moon to photograph a large flat plain called the Sea of Tranquility.

An Atlas Agena rocket is to blast skyward between 12 05 and 2 03 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, to start the camera carrying craft on its planned 65-hour flight.

The 809-pound payload is to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon Saturday morning.

In the final 13 minutes and 40 seconds, Ranger 8's six cameras are to flash to earth more than 4,000 pictures at altitudes ranging from 1,100 miles down to about half a mile.

The Sea of Tranquility is nearer to the moon's shadow line than the region photographed by Ranger 7. The pictures thus should have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountain peaks and other features.

The 4,312 pictures transmitted by Ranger 7 were about 2,000 times better than any obtained by land-based telescopic cameras. In the final shots, craters only 18 inches across were visible.

Lunar Surface

Space agency officials said the pictures indicate the lunar surface is covered with extremely fine rubble. Experts disagree on the depth Ranger 8 may shed light on the controversy.

The launching will climax a major space doubleheader at Cape Kennedy.

A Saturn 1 rocket successfully hurled a giant space bird named Pegasus into orbit Tuesday to study the threat that meteoroids pose to manned space flight.

2 Negro Youths Hit by Gunfire

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two Negro youths were wounded by a shotgun blast late Tuesday night as they were standing inside a Mobile restaurant. Both were listed in serious condition at a Mobile hospital.

Police identified the youths as Billy Kinnard, 18, and James Lee Doss, 16.

Officers said the first shot went through a plate glass window of the restaurant and the second was fired through the front door.

Budo proposed that the assembly decide at once by roll call to elect its steering committee, adopt an agenda and get to work.

Stammering with surprise, Assembly President Alex Quaison Sackey of Ghana declared the entire membership had agreed to the voteless procedure "in an overwhelming desire not to have a confrontation at the present session."

Budo's move was a clear challenge to the United States, which claims it can muster the two-thirds vote needed to invoke Article 19 of the U.N. charter. That article would deprive the Soviet Union, France and 11 other nations of their assembly vote because their refusal to pay peace keeping assessments has put them two years in arrears on their U.N. dues.

The Soviet Union has threatened to walk out if Article 19 is applied. The United States has warned that it would take a fresh look at the big sums it pumps into U.N. projects if the Soviet Union keeps its vote without paying.

Formal Vote in U.N. Sought By Albanians

China Believed Behind Move to Force Showdown

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates believe Peking was the mastermind behind Albania's demand Tuesday for a formal vote that would force the U.S. Soviet showdown in the United Nations which the General Assembly has been striving to avoid.

Most diplomats refused to speak on the record but they said privately it was obvious Red China was behind the sudden move by chief Albanian delegate Halim Budo, which caught other assembly members completely off guard.

It looks as if some people want to wreck the United Nations, U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson told reporters.

Asked if he thought Peking had a hand in it, Stevenson said he had no clues, then added "I suppose so."

Most diplomats felt Albania would not have suddenly run counter to the wishes of the assembly unless the Chinese Communists had brought heavy pressure to bear. Budo waved aside newsmen who sought to question him after the stormy session.

U. S. Flag Torn From Uganda Embassy Building

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Two men tore down the American flag flying outside the U.S. Embassy in a demonstration Tuesday against U.S. military aid to the Congo. About 5,000 persons crowded outside a building housing the embassy.

Riot police fired tear gas into the crowd after the demonstrators began throwing stones toward the fourth floor of the building, where the embassy has its offices. The stones crashed through windows of a company on a lower floor.

Only Pound of Explosive Used

Door to Vatican is Dynamited

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A pound of dynamite exploded early today against a wooden door in the Vatican wall only 100 yards from the apartment where Pope Paul VI was sleeping.

Police sought to determine whether the explosion was linked with Communist protests against the banning of the controversial play "The Deputy."

Awakened Pope

Vatican sources said the blast undoubtedly awakened the Pope. It destroyed part of the door in the wall caused damage in the Swiss Guard barracks just inside the wall and shattered windows within a hundred yard radius.

A night watchman Vittorio Rivi told police he saw two men approach the gate, then hurry away in a high-powered car just before the explosion. He said the men were short, youthful in appearance and well dressed. He said one was bearded.

Crude Device

Police said the bomb was a crude device consisting of a pound of dynamite packed into a carton. It was wedged against a corner of the seldom-opened Porta Angelica — Angelic Door.

The door is alongside the gate of Sant'Anna, the only entry into the walled Vatican City from the Via de Porta Angelica which runs from the south eastern corner of Vatican City to the great colonnades around St. Peter's Square.

It was the first bombing at the 108-acre Vatican City state since 1962 when two fire bombs were found in St. Peter's Basilica mask a quartet allegedly bent on blowing up the Statue of Liberty and the Washington Monument.

Three American Negroes, described as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics and a striking Canadian blonde were seized Tuesday in a lightning roundup by police and the FBI.

Wood was hustled to a police station along with one of the alleged plotters as he was helping transfer 20 sticks of dynamite from a lot to an auto in a quiet residential section of the Bronx. Alerted by Wood, police had blanketed the area.

Foiled Plot to Dynamite Monuments

Undercover Agent Pierced Conspiracy

BY RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Wood, 31-year-old Negro who 10 months ago was just a rookie cop plunged coolly into a cloak-and-dagger role to unmask a quartet allegedly bent on blowing up the Statue of Liberty and the Washington Monument.

Three American Negroes, described as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics and a striking Canadian blonde were seized Tuesday in a lightning roundup by police and the FBI.

Wood was hustled to a police station along with one of the alleged plotters as he was helping transfer 20 sticks of dynamite from a lot to an auto in a quiet residential section of the Bronx. Alerted by Wood, police had blanketed the area.

Risked Life

The 6-foot-1-inch, 201-pound Wood who is single for three months had infiltrated a Negro extremist organization known as the Black Liberation Front at a daily risk of his life.

Wood said of his achievement only "I wanted to do my best."

He murmured "thank you" when Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, at a news conference handed Wood an immediate promotion — the gold shield of a detective.

"You certainly deserve it," said Murphy.

An outstanding high school football player at Chester S.C. Wood served four years in the U.S. Air Force in Germany with an investigative unit. He attended Fordham University for six months. Before that he had been a cost accountant.

Dangerous Mission

A patrolman for seven months, Wood undertook his dangerous mission when he became an undercover agent for the police Bureau of Special Services.

He made his initial contact in a bar last December. From then on it was a cat and mouse game as he attended meetings, walked picket lines until he was recognized as one of "them," and listened stolidly as he was told about the dynamite plots.

Those arrested were Robert S. Collier, 28, Boston-born, married with one child; Walter A. Bowe, 32, Philadelphia-born, married with one child; Khaleel S. Sayyed, 22, Brooklyn-born and single; and Michelle Duclos, 28, of Montreal, television commentator and member of a political party that advocates separation of French-speaking Quebec citizens from the rest of Canada.

Slashed Man

Collier, who received an other-than-honorable discharge from military service after slashing a man during a fight in England in 1956, was said originally to have braced plans for three-man teams to destroy U.S. installations.

On Jan. 19, Commissioner of the New York State Department of Corrections, James J. O'Connell, said that the four persons were engaged in a labor dispute at the time they hired an investigator to find the plotters. In a sensational trial during which defense attorney Clarence Darrow was twice charged with trying to improperly sway the jury, two men pleaded guilty and were sentenced to San Quentin Prison.

Six years later, 10 persons watching a Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco died

when a bomb went off on July 22, 1916.

Thomas J. Mooney, a labor organizer, and Warren K. Billings, a show worker, were sentenced to death and to life in prison, respectively. Mooney's sentence was later reduced to life, and he was eventually pardoned.

One of the most famous plots was the attempt of abolitionist John Brown to arm the slaves.

Brown took a force of only 21 men to raid the federal arsenal at Harper's Ferry, Va., on Oct. 16, 1859.

They took about 60 of the leading citizens as hostages. Brown was routed two days later by U.S. Marines under the command of Col. Robert E. Lee. Five civilians and a Marine were killed along with a number of Brown's party.

Brown and five of his cohorts were taken prisoner, and later were hanged for treason. Northern abolitionists viewed him as a martyr.

One Has Breathing Difficulty

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Webber twins, Karen Marie and Kimberly Marie, tested in Isolettes today after being separated by surgery.

Doctors expressed cautious optimism the 2-month-old Siamese twins would survive.

Karen was having some difficulty breathing and a Texas Children's Hospital spokesman said she would require continuous assistance. She has been the weaker twin.

The spokesman said how ever the respiratory problem did not appear grave.

A team of surgeons hovered over the babies more than four hours in an extremely delicate operation Tuesday.

They found that besides the

Initiated By Plea of Pope John

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — "Love, not fear, must dominate relationships between individuals and between nations."

This was the rudimentary plea of a plain-speaking Pope, the late John XXIII, in his now famed encyclical Pacem in Terris — Peace on Earth.

Today, two years after its was issued, leaders and thinkers from around the world were gathering here to consider ways for applying its principles in a troubled, dangerous age.

The International Convocation on Pacem in Terris opens tonight in the United Nations General Assembly hall.

3-Day Meeting

It continues for the next three days, with statesmen, theologians and educators from the Western nations and the Communist East analyzing means of maintaining peace.

President Johnson has expressed hope the discussions will provide a major contribution to the greatest single problem of our time.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey delivers the opening keynote address.

The convocation, privately sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, takes its impulse from the document penned by Pope John less than two months before he died.

Addressed to Mankind

Unlike past papal teachings, it was addressed not only to Roman Catholics, but to all mankind.

It was hailed by leaders of all faiths — Christian, Jewish, Moslem and Hindu — and by government heads around the globe, including then Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President John F. Kennedy.

It summarizes the moral ideals underlying human society, declares the right of religious liberty or racial equality, of labor justice, and of rights both of private property and community ownership.

Ballistic Missiles Considered Reliable

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — An Air Force general says ballistic missiles are so reliable that aerospace industries have been asked how to fire flights of them with dummy warheads over heavily populated areas of the United States.

The day will come "when we will be flying missiles over the country as we do jet planes today," Gen. Bernard A. Schriever told a San Bernardino Sun-Telegram reporter.

Many Destructive Plots Carried Out

U.S. History Full of Fantastic Schemes

BY AUSTIN SCOTT

NEW YORK (AP) — History is full of incidents where small groups of determined men have tried to carry out fantastic schemes of destruction.

The Statue of Liberty, one alleged target in the dynamite plot exposed Tuesday by New York police, was endangered by such a plan once before in her 80-year history.

Lady Liberty suffered minor damage on July 30, 1916, when a munitions dump explosion

believed set by German saboteurs sent artillery shells shrieking into the air around her.

The blast started a $40-million fire raging on New Jersey's Black Tom docks which put into New York harbor almost directly behind the statue. Two persons were killed.

Other historic explosions include the blowing up of the U.S. battleship Maine on Feb. 15, 1898, in Havana harbor, an event which helped spark the Spanish-American War.

That explosion killed 264 men and two officers. A U.S. inquiry decided the blast came from outside the ship while a Spanish board of inquiry held that it came from inside.

Twenty-one persons died in the Los Angeles Times building in 1910 when a dynamite explosion on Oct. 1 started a fire.

Contractors working on the building were engaged in a labor dispute at the time.

They hired an investigator to find the plotters. In a sensational trial during which defense attorney Clarence Darrow was twice charged with trying to improperly sway the jury, two men pleaded guilty and were sentenced to San Quentin Prison.

Race Develops For Waupaca School Board

Three Seek Election For Two Posts Open; Hansen Won't Run

WAUPACA—A three-way race for two seats on the Waupaca Unified School District Board of Education developed Tuesday when incumbent Sidney Greina and John Chalmers, signed declarations of intent.

Bernard Rickel, 909 Berlin St., Waupaca, was the first candidate to indicate he would seek a place on the seven-man board.

Greina, route 1, Scandinavia, has been a member of the board since the unified district was organized four years ago. He has served a one-year term and a full three-year term.

A resident of Waupaca for the last eight years, Chalmers lives at 221 Lake St. and is president of a directory service and advertising agency which specializes in farm advertising. He is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College.

Incumbent John Hansen has announced he will not seek reelection to the board. Hansen has served four years on the unified board plus several years when the schools were operated by the city.

The deadline for filing a declaration of intent is Feb. 23, at the office of the board secretary, Dr. Stanley Langdon, 206 E. Union St., Waupaca.

An Advisory Committee appointed by the Seymour Community Schools Board of Education has been studying future district needs. They have been touring school sites throughout the state and have toured all schools in the Seymour District. New London Plan Would End Annual Teacher Salary Talks

3-Year Pact Proposed by School Board

NEW LONDON — The New London School District board of education has proposed a three-year salary schedule to the teachers' welfare committee that would eliminate the annual bargaining between the teachers and board over wages.

The proposal ranging from $4,200-$5,200 would be in effect until 1968 and cover non-degree, bachelor and master degrees, and a half-step schedule between them.

The schedule presented to the welfare committee Monday did not include the half-step program, but was added for teacher approval by the board.

Base Salaries

Base salaries for a teacher entering the system next year would be $4,200 for less than a degree, $4,800 for a bachelor degree, $5,000 for the 15-credit half step and $5,200 for a master degree if the schedule is approved by the teachers and board.

Top salary possible for a non-degree teacher would be $4,762.71 with four years experience in 1968, $7,562.97 for 14 years experience with a bachelor degree and $10,114.10 for a teacher with a master degree and 16 years experience.

Base salaries would increase on a percentage basis by $100 a year during the three-year period.

Know Rank

Supt. H. James Ramsdell said the schedule was a sensible approach to the yearly meetings between boards and teachers. He said it allows the teachers to know where they rank in the pay scale.

Gary Nelson, welfare committee spokesman, said the teachers were satisfied with the schedule. He proposed the half-step program, approved by the board, and an increase in salary for non-degree teachers, which the board turned down.

Board President Gordon Reid-Enbach said they were trying to discuss plans for 1965 at the next association meeting.

Rev. Donald W. Biester, who has served the St. Martin Lutheran congregation, Clintonville, since July, 1960, has accepted a call to the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Tipton, Ind. He will preach his farewell address March 7 and will be installed at Emmanuel Lutheran Church on March 14.

Alumni Group of Stockbridge High Elects Officers

STOCKBRIDGE — Officers of the Stockbridge High School Alumni Association have been re-elected. They are Berton Hoffman, president; Helen Schumacher, vice president; Ella Pottle, secretary; and Alta Gerhart, treasurer. Carlos Reif and Audrey Vulp are new members of the executive board.

An association banquet to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the school will be held in connection with the homecoming football game next fall. All alumni will be sent invitations.

The high school teachers will discuss plans for 1965 at the next association meeting.

State Funeral Directors Oppose Proposed Law

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Outagamie County delegation in the state legislature encountered strong resistance Tuesday as it asked the for the endorsement of an assembly committee for legislation to permit a Black Creek resident to be licensed as a funeral director. He is not financial loss.

Association Complains

The Wisconsin Funeral Directors Association sent two of its chief officials to Madison to argue that the bill introduced on behalf of Robert Turkow of Black Creek would break down defiance of the education and licensing standards that have been in effect for years.

Requirements Disregarded

The measure would permit any person who had been licensed a funeral director must be employed by a funeral director before 1959 to be licensed as a funeral director without regard to later licensing requirements. "Don't undo the requirements if he lives 10 miles or more from a first, second or third class city."

Turkow has become the owner of the Burdick Funeral Home and furniture business at Black Creek. He had been employed by Assemblymen William Rogers, Harold Froehlich and Ervin Conradt of Outagamie County and Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek.

Chilton Starts Quest For Additional Water Supply

Works Director Reports Local Sources Inadequate Even With New Well; Will Look Outside City

CHILTON — A quest for Standard Sign Co. for three city additional sources of water welcome signs are being considered by the city council Tuesday night even committee. One sign would be though the new No. 6 well was made of three planks of routed put into operation only last redwood, eight feet by one foot, week.

The council authorized Walter Muehl, director of public works, to negotiate with local companies each. The city has $2,000 for the drilling of test holes outside the city limits. The city attorney will prepare easements to permit drilling.

Water usage jumped from 109 million gallons in 1963 to 130 million in 1964, according to City Clerk Arthur Pohland.

Muehl told the council that all city wells together are producing less than 500 gallons per minute. Use of No. 6 well was hurried since shortage of water reduced the capacity of wells No. 4 and 5. However, it has become apparent that No. 5 and No. 6 are on the same water vein in spite of the distance between them, one drawing from the other.

Local Sites Exhausted

From difficulties encountered while drilling the most recent well, it is apparent that city sites are exhausted. Muehl declared. The program of drilling a series of small wells throughout the city, which was recommended by a survey in 1956, is now completed.

The works director said there is no sure spot to locate a water supply. "In this area it is a matter of luck."

After a water supply is located the city will take bids for the permanent well.

In Spite of His Blindness, Prof. Leslie Zacharias is able to conduct his classes at Carthage College, Kenosha, in much the same manner as sighted teachers. When introducing new words, he likes to write them on the blackboard so that students will be able to see what they look like as well as how they sound.

Blind Oshkosh Native Good, Tough Professor

KENOSHA (AP) — His eyes Zacharias finds Braille "too may be blind, they say of the cumbersome and slow," and spends much of his time listening to tape recorded materials from great libraries here and abroad, and to student readers on topical material.

He gets around the Carthage campus without help, and commutes from his home in a faculty car pool, which has not, however, taken him up as yet on one of his challenges to the sighted world.

He would take his turn driving, he said, if someone would lend him a car.

His interest developed after he lost his sight in an illness when he was a 16-year-old Oshkosh, Wis., high school boy. The loss of vision did not interrupt his high school education and he went on to Oshkosh State University, then to the University of Wisconsin and finally to the universities of Kiel and Marburg in Germany. After returning to Wisconsin for his undergraduate degree he went back to Germany for six years to do his doctoral studies at the University of Göttingen.

Teaching Methods are essentially the same as those of sighted teachers," Zacharias says. "Naturally, I do less blackboard work, but I do use it, especially when introducing new words."

The temple degree will be given at 3 p.m. The Eastern Star will serve dinner at 6 p.m. for the Knights and their guests. There will be reception of grand officers, reception of the flag, and full-form opening. Entertainment will be provided for the women in the afternoon and evening.

The inspecting officer will be Karl A. Crane, Racine, the grand generalissimo of Wisconsin.

Other grand commandery officers who will be present include Albert Rohrbach, Manitowish, grand commander; Robert E. Billings, Clintonville, deputy grand commander; Wilbur P. Matschke, Milwaukee, grand chaplain general; Earl B. Bauer, Milwaukee, grand re-made by calling the high school office.

Several phases of art and ceramics will be covered.

Chilton Whips Stockbridge

Tigers Gain Revenge For Earlier Loss; Take 77-66 Victory

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference gained a measure of revenge for an earlier defeat by whipping the Stockbridge Indians of the Kettle-Moraine Conference in a non-conference battle 77-66 here Tuesday night.

A tight first half ended at 35-35 after Chilton had held a 14-11 first quarter lead. Stockbridge came back with 24 points in the second period to earn the tie.

The second half belonged to the Tigers as they outscored the Indians 42 to 31 for the 11-point margin.

Leading the Tiger scoring was senior Al Whitby with 32 points on 12 baskets and eight free throws. Paul Juckem added 19.

For the Indians Bob Mayer and Tom Schoen led with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

The Tigers outshot the Indians 29 to 18 from the field but the Indians stayed in the game mainly by cashing in on 30 of their 40 free throw opportunities. The Tigers hit on only 19 of 35 chances.

Chilton: 14 21 21 21 — 77. Schmidtkofer, 1 2 4, Wilson, 1 0 4, Casper, 1 3 4, Juckem, 7 5 1, Whitby, 12 8 3, Hauser, 2 1 5, Pagel, 4 0 2, Schaiff, 0 0 1, Pfeiffer, 0 0 1, McHugh, 1 0 2. Totals — 29-19-27.

Stockbridge: 11 24 14 17 — 66. Schoen, 4 7 4, Comerford 2 0 4, Steffen, 2 4 3, Keuler 1 3 2, Wood 1 3 5, Daun 1 1 3, Mayer, 7 2 5. Totals — 18-30-28.

Schools to Continue to Begin After Labor Day

Board Backs Off From Suggestion To Begin Fall Semester Earlier

The Appleton Board of Education considered starting school before Labor Day but backed off Monday as it set the school calendar for the 1965-1966 school year.

In an effort to provide two full weeks of vacation at Christmas as requested by the teachers' board members seriously considered starting classes on the Thursday before Labor Day.

Anticipated objections from parents were a major factor in the board's decision not to push ahead the opening day of school for teachers' vacation. The calendar as approved by schools and family vacations if it could be improved.

The Sooner the Better

Expert 'Crowologist' Is Needed For 4 a.m. Rankin Street Visitors

A crowologist, a recently coined term to designate an expert crow chaser—is needed in the 1300 block of N. Rankin Street—the sooner the better.

Residents living near the Zion Cemetery have about had all they can stand of the early morning gatherings of more than 1,000 crows in the two large evergreens just inside the cemetery.

Mrs. Al Streator, 1328 N. Rankin St., said the birds gather about 4:30 a.m. in the two trees and make lots of birds' noises until about 7:30 a.m. Then they leave and are not seen until the following morning.

Mrs. Streator said she and her husband have tried to dissuade the birds from gathering by hanging pans against the house and garage and throwing stones at the trees.

Mrs. Streator said the branches on the two trees just drip with birds shortly after 4:30 a.m. The birds have been gathering in the branches for about two months. The Streators live on N. Rankin Street and have never had the problem before.

Monday Mrs. Streator contacted Appleton police about the birds and a squad car driver was sent to the area shortly after 4:30 a.m. He reported the birds flew off when he sounded his siren in the direction of the trees, but Mrs. Streator said the birds were back five minutes after the policeman left.

Conservation Suggestion Conservation authorities have suggested that the Streators buy a gun fire some shots into the trees and the birds would be permanently scared away. Mrs. Streator said, however, police have warned her about shooting in the city and she is reluctant to try the suggestion.

She said she has written to police asking permission to fire blank cartridges at the birds, but has not received a reply.

Mrs. Streator has considered firecrackers to scare the pests, but said she did not know where at this time of year she could purchase such articles. She said she would contact the county sheriff's department.

Meanwhile Mrs. Streator who said she is being treated by a doctor for nervous tension said she is willing to bet the birds would be back early tomorrow morning—just as loud as ever.

NLRB Upholds Scolding Locks Case Findings

Steelworkers Had Filed Unfair Labor Practice Charges

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has upheld the decision of its trial examiner that Scolding Locks Corp. engaged in unfair labor practices.

Action was brought against the Appleton firm by District No. 32 United Steelworkers of America AFL-CIO which filed charges on June 15, July 16 and Aug. 10 of last year.

Examiner C. W. Whitmore conducted a NLRB hearing here last fall.

Attorneys for the company petitioned for a rehearing on the basis of new evidence and this was denied by the NLRB in its decision and order dated Feb. 11, 1965.

The board has reviewed the rulings of the trial examiner made at the hearing and finds that no prejudicial error was committed. The NLRB said in affirming previous rulings.

Scolding Locks management was ordered to post a notice to employees which outlines the orders of the NLRB.

It was noted in the board's decision that some of the allegations against the company were dismissed.

The firm must inform employees that it will not Discourage membership in activities of District No. 32 United Steelworkers of America by discharging, issuing unfavorable ratings, suspending or in any other manner discriminating against employees.

Getting Liquor For Minor Lands Youth in Jail

WAUPACA — A rural Wauwega youth was given two consecutive 60-day jail sentences Tuesday when he pleaded guilty of two counts of procuring intoxicating liquor for minors.

Willard Peterson, 20, route 1 Wauwega, was fined $200 or 60 days in jail for purchasing liquor for five youths Feb. 5 and the same fine and sentence for purchasing liquor for three youths Feb. 8. On both occasions two of the youths were 15-year-old girls.

Peteron is currently on probation for burglary and two counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors. These offenses occurred last September.

When Peterson was unable to pay the fines, Municipal Justice George Whalen ordered that he serve the two 60-day sentences and said they may run concurrently with any other sentence he may have to serve as the result of his probation violation.

Assistant Chief Picked by Firemen

MANAWA — Gerald Sabrowsky has been appointed temporary assistant fire chief of the Manawa Fire Department according to Seward Craig, fire chief.

The Governor Learns About Education

The Coordinating Committee for Higher Education firmly told Governor Warren Knowles, in answer to questions he had sent them, that their plans for the future of public higher education in Wisconsin are not "visionary" or unrealistic. However, the CCHHE did approve experimental community colleges at three centers in the state in an effort to combine vocational education beyond the high school with some liberal arts courses with transferable credits.

The real problem in what has almost amounted to a dispute between the governor and the CCHHE is something that educators in Madison have been warning about for several years. There are large numbers of young people graduating from Wisconsin high schools and an increasing percentage who want or feel the need of more education. And there has been pressure from a number of sources to increase this percentage. The college graduate earns considerably more in his career than the high school graduate. More training is needed in almost every vocation today than can be provided in four years of high school. Drop out has become a disagreeable term. The labor market shrinks from an annual large group of unskilled people seeking jobs. There is nothing visionary whatsoever about the master plan which the CCHHE has frequently reviewed in applying it to Wisconsin's future unless it is determined that the taxpayers cannot carry the load.

Part of the dispute also has been caused by terminology. The "community college" or the "junior college" is substantially the same as certainly many vocational educators envisioned in the new regional vocational schools approved by the CCHHE only a few months ago. We agree emphatically with the need for more technical training for high school graduates in Wisconsin—and perhaps for more in the high schools, too. But this cannot be added at the expense of the liberal arts and pre-professional programs. This is the problem of numbers which is worth concern but cannot be changed.

The same sort of concern we presume struck John Reynolds when he took office as governor two years ago. At any rate, he too sent out a series of questions about educational programs and plans to the two Boards of Regents. Since Wisconsin is an uncertain political state, as far as dominance by one party is concerned, it may be well for any future chief executives to review the back lists of queries before questioning them. This time, however, it appears that the need to defend its policies was probably healthy for the CCHHE.

But the CCHHE has not yet solved the problem of competition within its own ranks as to which board will operate any new liberal arts institutions. The community colleges, if they are put into operation, will be run by the State Board of Adult and Vocational Education which has representation on the CCHHE. This group also will operate regional vocational schools as various communities decide about them. But if a four year institution comes into this area—or if two more years are added to make the four years possible for area residents in attendance at a University Center—management still is in doubt. Fortunately the CCHHE has not let this unresolved rivalry confuse it as to continued support of the need.

The Governor's questions and implied criticisms have done one thing which all the warnings of educators failed to do over a number of years. Taxpayers, even those without children seeking to enter college, should now be aware of the continued and growing problems that face higher education in Wisconsin and the costs they may entail.

The Breadth of the Gap

As the discussion of the Knowles budget recently presented to the legislature continues, there runs through it a note of astonishment of the size of the "revenue gap," so-called, the difference between the expected yield of taxes now levied and the yield that will be required from new taxes if the governor's appropriations program is accepted by the legislature as it stands.

That difference, as a minimum, will be about $110 millions for the next two years. Because the governor has indicated generally that there are other expenditure commitments he favors, and some tax relief measures such as a further reduction of the personal property tax, and other factors, the gap may very well reach $140 millions, as some of the issue-conscious Democratic representatives at Madison have been repeating assiduously.

Admittedly that is a sizable deficit to bridge. Obviously, it is a source of some embarrassment to many persons of Republican persuasion who supported Mr. Knowles last fall in the expectation of his prudent fiscal attitudes, among other reasons.

There is involved here a series of factors infrequently understood, and therefore a political nuisance to whoever might be holding the executive office today. While the governor's projected expenditures program, is plainly a generous one, it is relevant that the state fiscal managers are always highly conservative on the process of revenue estimating.

Almost always in the past the actual collection of taxes exceeded estimates and there is every likelihood that the experience will be repeated. Thus the revenue gap as it stands is figured at what is almost surely the maximum, and will finally turn out to be somewhat less.

But the most important factor in measuring the deficit against that of the governor's predecessor in the same situation is an esoteric political device that has had an increasingly important role in state capital affairs during recent years, the so-called "windfall." When former Gov. Reynolds finally patched up his revenue compromise two years ago, it included several windfalls that won't recur for the benefit of the Knowles budget. For one of the realities about the tax "windfall" is that it cannot be repeated. Those Reynolds windfalls amounted to $66 million, and in an objective comparison, they must be counted against the Knowles' prospective deficit to put it in its true dimensions.

Corporation finance officers, for example, will recall clearly the 1963 statute that put them on a current income tax declaration basis, while paying their current tax obligations at the same time. That had the effect of some doubling up of the corporate income tax receipts. There were also retroactive income tax increases, as some of the more studious individuals paying state taxes will remember. Finally there was an adjustment in accounting procedures that credited the state with an extra month's income taxes, and a transfer, euphemistically labeled, of insurance reserve money from the state insurance fund for the relief of the Reynolds' deficit. These factors must be taken into account in a fair measurement of the situation now confronted by Gov. Knowles.

Looking Backward

Peace Mission at Fort Munroe

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Feb. 11, 1865.

New York, Feb. 6, 1865—The Times Washington special says Mr. Seward reached Fortress Munroe in advance of Messrs. Stephens, Hunter and Campbell (rebel commissioners). Upon the arrival of these gentlemen, they were at once invited to an interview and they informed Mr. Seward of their desire to proceed to Washington for the purpose of discussing the question of peace with the President.

Mrs. S. informed them that it was the President's wish that the discussion take place at Fortress Munroe, and that he had been sent by President Lincoln to meet them at that point upon the subject.

The rebel commissioners dressed with considerable earnestness for leave to visit Washington and finally alleged that their government had consented to send them only on the assurance they should have a personal interview with Mr. Lincoln.

Mr. Seward assured them that this pledge would be fulfilled and at once telegraphed to the President that his presence was necessary.

After Mr. Lincoln's arrival the conference lasted four hours and was perfectly friendly and even tempered throughout. On our side the conversation was mainly conducted by the President—on theirs by Mr. Hunter, with Mr. Stephens occasionally taking part. The rebel commissioners said nothing whatever of their personal views or wishes, but spoke solely and exclusively for their government, and at the outset declared their entire lack of authority to make, receive or consider any proposition whatever looking toward a close of the war, except on the basis of recognition of the independence of the confederate states as a preliminary condition.

The President presented the subject to them in every conceivable form, suggesting the most liberal and considerate modification of existing legislation and action of the United States Government that might be regarded as hostile to the rights and interests of the Southern people.

But in no single instance could he induce them to swerve for a moment for their demands for recognition. They did not present this conspicuously as resting on their own convictions, but as the condition by which their government had made absolutely necessary to any negotiations or discussions whatever concerning peace.

In Perspective:

President Needs Our Prayers As He Weighs Next Step in Viet Nam

BY MAX FREEDMAN

WASHINGTON—In the end the decision in Viet Nam, for war or peace, will be made by the President alone. His advisers will disagree. No precedents can guide him. History, said Max Beerbohm, never repeats itself; it is only historians who repeat each other. That is particularly true of what has happened in Asia since 1950.

Freedman

President Truman decided to oppose the Communists the moment they invaded South Korea. But that was comparatively an easy decision compared with the present one. The Communists in Korea had crossed a frontier in naked aggression. In Viet Nam there is a mixed-up civil war.

U.N. Gave Approval
Fifteen nations joined the United States in collective resistance to aggression in Korea. The United Nations gave its moral authority to the sanctions, the first in history on this scale. The South Koreans in more than 20 divisions fought bravely for their freedom.

By contrast the situation in Viet Nam has been sad. The United Nations has taken no part in the struggle. Other nations have given dusty answers to the call for help. The United States has carried the main burdens. The people of South Viet Nam are weary from long years of war. They lack a strong and stable government. They have yet to produce the unity which alone can sustain a nation at war.

The American people, with mingled pride and sadness, took up the challenge in 1950. They knew that freedom throughout the world would be exposed to fearful peril if this Korean aggression went unrebuked and unchallenged. In this country there was universal praise of the decision to resist. It was only later, much later, as the war drifted into a sour stalemate that it became known as "Mr. Truman's War." Nor, again, is there any guidance for President Johnson in the troubled history of Viet Nam. The late John Foster Dulles tried to organize winner of the Heiss Oratorical contest at the high school, which made him eligible for the Legion district competition. He now goes on to the state contest.

Robert Vandenberg, speaker from the Toastmasters Club, addressed the Combined Locks Parent-Teacher Association on the subject of physically and mentally handicapped children in Outagamie County. Members of the hostess committee for the meeting included Mrs. John DeValk, Mrs. Paul Kersten, Mrs. Sylvian Gavaert, Mrs. Frank Schimmers and Mrs. Urban Wilderding.

a collective effort against the danger from China. He largely failed. The great restraint on China was the Seventh Fleet. That fleet could protect Formosa and other threatened lands. It could be used against North Viet Nam in reprisal raids. But it could not stop the kind of guerrilla war devouring South Viet Nam.

Ike's Warning

As he was leaving the White House, President Eisenhower advised his successor to consider the necessity of direct military involvement in Viet Nam on a very large scale. President Kennedy thought otherwise. He quoted Churchill a war delayed is often a war averted. Though he raised our stakes in Viet Nam, he did so within prudent limits.

President Johnson inherited a problem which neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy, despite their different methods, had been able to solve. Perhaps there is no solution but only tragedy and waste leading after much suffering to an unsatisfactory settlement. President Johnson may have to end this problem. He did not create it.

Nor, for that matter, is

Some Things Are Worse Than TV Commercials

From Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent

With the continued expansion of radio and television, advertisers have become more important, commercials longer and more frequent, and the singing jingles were overtaken by the direct "frank" approach.

Standard as certain advertising propaganda may be, continued attacks upon the sponsor system could lead to one of the only two alternatives—subscription television or radio or an industry completely controlled, operated and financed by the state. A few minutes' annoyance during a program is greatly to be preferred to either of these.

there any help for the President in conjuring up the ghost of the Cuban missile crisis. Any President would have resisted the Communist attempt to blackmail this country with missiles capable of much destruction. The greatness of President Kennedy in that crisis was not in what he did—that was inevitable—but in the skill and valor and steadiness with which he did it. In very different circumstances, facing a totally different situation, President Johnson is applying the same qualities to keep the accidents and tragedies of the battlefield from usurping the final powers of judgment and decision in Washington. In this difficult task he derives neither guidance nor comfort from frenzied analogies with the Cuban missile crisis.

The Young Must Fight

Nor, finally, is there help for the President in an appeal to the martial virtues. It is not a noble sight to see middle-aged men and old men talking about courage and sacrifice. If the last test of military valor is needed in Viet Nam, there will be no shortage of courage, no wincing away from sacrifice. But it is not these men who will do the fighting and the dying. It is not their blood that will be shed.

A President sometimes shows his highest courage by thinking and preparing while others are in hot blood. He cannot save the peace by weakness but he can provoke war by impulsiveness. The Communist rulers, by their mistakes and provocations, may at last force us to a larger and infinitely most dangerous war. Everything the President had done in recent days has been done to save the Communists from that ultimate folly, and to bring this country, united and strong, into battle, if no other choice in honor is open to us. At such a time, with peace itself in the balance, the President needs not our criticisms but our prayers.

Bipartisan Tax Plan Will Receive Little Help From Democrats

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Democratic legislative leadership has made utterly clear its intention to refuse Gov. Knowles' appeal for bi-partisan collaboration to achieve a compromise on state taxing methods before he offers his own proposals and preferences.

Wyngaard

It is also crystal clear that the Democrats are spoiling for a fight on the income tax versus the sales tax issue, for such value as it may have in setting the stage for the 1966 gubernatorial campaign and in full confidence that they can exploit an anti-sales tax position to their own advantage.

As they see it, Gov. Reynolds damaged himself and his party by working out the sales and income tax compromise in the 1963 Legislature, in what appeared to be a contravention of the party's explicit 1962 platform position.

But Reynolds as the governor then had the responsibility, in the public view, of maintaining the state's services and he appeared to be threatened with their collapse during the long stalemate with the Republican Legislature.

ANOTHER SHOE

Now it is another shoe on another foot, according to this viewpoint. Now it is the Republican governor, beneficiary of Reynolds' embarrassment during the last finance negotiations, who has the responsibility for operating the state and whose bargaining position has been weakened.

That the governor has deferred declaring his own finance prescription and has appealed for a bipartisan authorship of a taxing program instead, the Democrats recognize, is a verification of their own analysis of the political situation.

It is difficult to refute the logic of the Democratic situation or the confidence of the Democratic politicians that for the moment, at least, they have a comfortable position. Where is the politician who would not like to stand up in defense of the taxpayer in a high budget situation, on the one hand, and who wouldn't enjoy the immunity from the consequences that are contained in the position, on the other?

Politicians are always most comfortable when they can find some legal justification or support for a position they want to take for partisan advantage. Thus the Democrats are now enjoying themselves by putting out press releases—quoting the laws which in fact impose upon the governor of the state the duty of suggesting revenues, as well as appropriations, when the latter exceed the prospective income from existing revenue laws.

FULL EXPOSITION

The Democrats, of course, cannot yet be sure what Knowles will propose, if he decides that a negotiated settlement is not possible.

But they believe they know as they have indicated in their publicity about the need for a full exposition of the nature of "basic party differences" and a "clear choice of revenue policies."

The Democrats virtually translated their strategy for the inattentive in their last public declaration when they said that "with divided government there is likely to be a tax compromise." Before that compromise is reached, however, "both parties must make a record of their position on taxes."

Thus they are announcing that they want to exploit the sales tax issue further. It is an ironic footnote to the continuing struggle about revenue policy because it necessarily follows that the Democrats must stand for higher personal income taxes in the alternative. Such a position is politically less dangerous today than it was in earlier years because an earlier Republican Legislature in another difficult contest reluctantly accepted the Democratic proposal for payroll deduction of income taxes. With the vast majority of the electorate now on "pay as you go," there is considerable less political risk in a position in favor of higher income taxes than there might otherwise have been.

Strictly Personal

Memorials Should be Something for Living

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The great Churchill cigar controversy last month struck me as a tempest in a teapot, or, if you will, a hurricane in a humid.

Harris

It began when the English Speaking Union in Washington, D. C. commissioned a statue of Winston Churchill, to be placed near the British Embassy.

A Cleveland sculptor, William McVey, submitted a model of the statue, with a plump cigar in Churchill's hand. The Washington chapter of the ESU was horrified at this "esthetic lapse," and ordered the cigar removed. At this writing, members of the ESU around the country are being polled on their preference.

—For the Birds

If Churchill himself had been polled, I suspect he would have hooted down the whole idea of a statue in his memory. The ancient Romans were a marmoreal people; the modern Americans are not. Statues in public places are, quite literally, for the birds.

The park near which I live has a number of traditional statues, of Shakespeare, Mozart, and such immortals. No one pays the slightest attention to them, except children who use them for games and amiable defacement. Not one passerby in a thousand knows or cares who the statue represents.

The best memorials, as I have said before, are those which add to the pleasure of the living, not those which commemorate the dead. A school, a library, a park pavilion, a hospital wing—these project the memory of great men into the future, rather than transfixing them in the past.

Skating Pond

In Connecticut some years ago, I was delighted to visit an "endowed" skating pond, which the family of some local citizen had built in his honor. In New York's Central Park, another such project consists of a chess-and-checker shelter, usable all year round by the elderly retired men who meet in the park daily.

A statue should be a work of art in its own right, not a representation of a paunchy gentleman, with or without a cigar in his hand. What Churchill represented to the British people, and to the world, can only be reduced, not augmented, by a stone figure. His body was absurd; his spirit noble.

As a young man, Churchill possessed a dreadful stammer, which it took him years to overcome. How much more fitting for the ESU and other groups who would memorialize him to donate an annual sum for research and treatment in speech defects of children, where such funds are so badly needed. The pigeons already have enough clinics of their own.

The Boeing Company has submitted this design for supersonic transport plane to the Federal Aviation Agency for evaluation with the suggestion that it might become the commercial airliner of the future. The plane which would fly three times the speed of present jetliners, would have adjustable wings, greater length and width have a gross weight of 500,000 pounds and would transport more than 200 passengers intercontinental distances at speeds of 2,000 miles per hour. (AP Wirephoto)

Congressmen Renew Call for Negotiations On Viet Nam Situation

Say Mail Indicates People Want Efforts for Cease Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Sen. Frank Church and George S. McGovern called anew today for efforts toward a negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam.

McGovern, of South Dakota, said the American people support President Johnson's actions, but that his own mail indicates by a ratio of 15 to 1 "that the people also favor efforts on our part to negotiate a cease-fire and a settlement in Viet Nam."

McGovern said that no one recognizes more clearly than the President that "bombing

Milwaukee Court Hears Scheme of Illinois Men

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Long, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said in counterfeit money for $15 of the President "I don't think million in genuine currency in he will yield to that ultimatum."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, of Iowa, senior Republican on the committee said "The South Viet Nam troubles could be brought to a close if Russia Red China and North Viet Nam would withdraw their support for the forces trying to destroy the government and people of South Viet Nam."

Treaty Obligation
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson D-Wash. said the United States and other countries are obligated by treaty to do everything we can to protect the sovereignty of South Viet Nam from guerrilla infiltration.

In response to a reporter's question Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said today "I support our policy of retaliatory strikes in response to the Pearl Harbor-type of attacks to which we have been subjected."

However, he also criticized what he called the administration's failure to help develop and support a government in Saigon which has both the will to win and the capacity to maintain local support.

Syria Orders U. S. Official Out, Charge He Headed Spy Ring

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government has ordered the second secretary of the U. S. Embassy, Walter S. Snowden out of the country.

The newspaper Al Baath spokesman of the ruling Baath Socialist party, accused him of heading a spy ring.

The American Embassy said the Syrian Foreign Ministry demanded Snowden's recall Tuesday but gave no reason.

The embassy said Snowden 46, his wife and two children were preparing to leave the country. Al Baath charged that Snowden headed a ring that collected secret information on the Syrian army. It claimed that all other members of the ring had been arrested and had made full confessions.

There was no direct comment from the Syrian government.

taking the license number of their car. "I got the $20 bill back," said Johnson. "I switched bills."

Use of Youthful Offenders Names Not Solution to Problem

MADISON (AP) — Allowing the news media to use the names of juvenile offenders is not the answer to the problem of youthful violators, Judge William R. Curran of Mauston told the Assembly Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

Judge Curran, representing the State Board of County Judges at a public hearing, asked the committee to delay action on a bill that would give the media instead of judges the discretion to publish names of juveniles charged with crimes.

Curran said the Board of County Judges is to meet this week and the entire Wisconsin Children's Code is to be discussed. He asked the committee to consider the recommendation of the board before acting on the bill.

Chiefly, however, the encyclical was a stirring appeal for world peace, urging an end of nuclear testing, a ban against atomic arms, controlled disarmament, and a world "public authority" to keep a just peace.

It voiced the hope that the United Nations would achieve that role.

Lasting peace, John XXIII said, can be founded not on armed deterrents, but only on determined, sincere negotiations and "mutual trust."

It is to weigh methods of translating these precepts into working realities that the privately financed center arranged the international convocation here.

The affair comes at a time on war threatening tensions in Viet Nam and Indonesia Malaysia, and while the United Nations is being subjected to severe strains between the major powers.

Noted figures are among participants, ranging from British historian Arnold Toynbee and nuclear scientist Linus Pauling to American theologian Paul Tillich and Pravda's editor, M. N. Inozemtse.

Syria, Israel Exchange Fire

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Syrian troops exchanged fire in the central Jordan River Valley north of the Sea of Galilee for 20 minutes today. They ceased fire on orders to both sides from U.N. observers.

An Israeli army spokesman claimed two Syrian positions fired light and automatic weapons at an Israeli army unit moving near Almagor settlement inside Israel territory.

The Israeli unit returned the fire the spokesman said. There were no casualties among the Israelis, he added.

Prepare Plan to Reorganize State Administrative Units

MADISON (AP) — A proposal that could be the first step in reorganizing state administrative agencies is being prepared for the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

Assemblyman Thomas Barland, R-Eau Claire, said today he is going to present a resolution to the committee that would set up a bipartisan commission to recommend a specific reorganization plan.

Other than sporadic attempts here and there by individual departments there has not been an overall plan of executive revision since the depression.

The proposed commission when would include representatives of the governor and legislators of both parties, would have to come up with its recommendations by a designated time.
